Frustrated War Protestors Block Jersey Pike

SWEDESBORO, N. J. (UPI) —More than 1,000 antiwar demonstrators, claiming they were frustrated because the nation ignored the weekend of peaceful rallies in Washington, D.C., blocked traffic on the busy New Jersey Turnpike for five hours Sunday night.

State police, outnumbered 10 to one by the singing, chanting protestors, broke up the protest with 80 arrests for disorderly conduct. But first, they dwindled the crowd by guiding the youths on a 15-mile march up the toll road. Those arrested were taken by bus to municipal court in Mt. Laurel, N.J., for booing. Most were held in lieu of $50 bail.

At the height of the mass sit-down 10 miles northeast of the Delaware border, traffic jams in front of the southern four turnpike exits stretched out eight miles. State police shut down the southernmost 35 miles of six-lane toll road.

Two battles with Communist forces only 23 miles from Saigon, closest fighting to capital this year . . . Story Page 4.

While thousands of motorists sat in their cars, demonstrators drank beer, tossed frisbies, strummed guitars and sang. They set a huge bonfire in the middle of the southbound lanes that went out after an hour.

Miss Abby Eddy, 18, New Britain, Conn., said: "A lot of us feel the march on Washington didn't do anything."

Miss Eddy, who was among a dozen demonstrators helping police to turn traffic around on the highway, said to a trooper: "Get your boys out of Vietnam and we'll give you back your turnpike."

Dozens of the protestors complained the demonstration in the capital did not win sufficient "recognition."

The youthful protestors said the caravan of sit-down demonstrators formed when Maryland state troopers expelled them from a restaurant-service area in Aberdeen, Md.

The caravan of more than 100 cars drove through the toll booths of the Delaware Memorial Bridge without paying.

About 10 miles farther north, eyewitnesses said a converted school bus stopped and swung across the road so as to block two lanes of traffic. Cars stopped beside it and the occupants swarmed across the southbound lanes on foot, bringing all six lanes to a halt.

"They caught us by surprise," said a state trooper. "There were 1,000 of them and only five of us."

Charles Schell, of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., said: "It was wild. Everybody just started having a hell of a good time."

Meanwhile, in Washington, the multitude which marched on the U.S. Capitol during the weekend was reduced to only a few hundred bed-rolled and bedraggled demonstrators today as antiwar organizers opened what they said would be another two weeks of more direct, and perhaps violent, protest.

The plans to tie up commuter rush-hour traffic, shut down whole segments of the government and trigger a strike in the bureaucracy seemed out-of-reach as the remaining demonstrators played frisbee across the street from the White House, warmed themselves beside campfires along the Potomac River or slept in the backs of camper vans.

The Peoples Coalition for Peace and Justice, steering the remaining part of the spring offensive, was planning to open its attack with a peaceful invasion of congressional offices. Welfare mothers, some women's groups and perhaps some of the antiwar Vietnam veterans who demonstrated last week said they would join portions of the lobbying.

The coalition is led by Chicago Seven defendant Rennie Davis and generally is regarded as more militant than the National Peace Action Coalition, which fathered Saturday's march on the seat of government.

The Local March for Peace — Picked Up Strength Along Way

By WADE BURKHART

KINGSTON

Considering the large number of potential participants who went to Washington, D.C., and the threatening weather forecast, the peace march in Kingston Saturday had a good turnout.

About 125 people began the march from Kingston High School, and the group swelled to about 150 when it arrived at Forsyth Park. The march picked up some support as it was proceeding, and a few people were waiting for it at the park.

The marchers ranged from the elderly to some children so young they had to be carried or pushed along in strollers.

They carried about a half dozen signs, and there was some chanting of peace slogans along the way. The signs shared message was "stop the war now."

The march began forming up at 2 p.m. and left Kingston High School at about 2:25. It arrived at Forsyth Park at around 3:10.

The first speaker at the park was Richard Cooper, who said he was a veteran of Vietnam and had been a first lieutenant with the 9th Infantry Division He said he left Vietnam three years ago, and pledged at that time to speak out against the war at every opportunity. He asked all present to continue to speak out against the war, and said the direction of the country must and should be determined by the people.

Cooper's speech was interrupted by a woman who claimed FBI agents were taking the license numbers of cars. She said this was harassment and an invasion of privacy, and urged all to write to their congressmen about it.

Rabbi Jonathan Eichhorn of Temple Emanuel told the gathering he was particularly gratified to see so many young people among them, and it gave him faith in the future of America. He told them there was a "wide gulf between wanting something and getting it done," and that the marchers were "putting your bodies where your hearts are."

The Rev. Bonnie Jones the featured speaker, was late arriving, and she addressed a crowd that had dwindled to about 40. She said she was delayed by a wedding she had to perform, and the bride was late.

She had been a member of a delegation of clergy and concerned citizens, which went to Paris to meet with all the delegations and, according to her, gather as much information as possible. She said the strongest impression she received was that both sides were in a tug of war with their respective ends tied to trees and no possible winner.

She said she was tired of the war and all it involved and that she was too young to feel tired. She recommended that each person have their own peace, and share it with others. She said peace can bring freedom and creativity in times of oppression and destruction.

The march and rally were sponsored by the Concerned Citizens of Ulster County. As the rally was breaking up, one organizer said he hoped the spring of 1972 would have no need of such an affair except as a welcome for American boys returning from Vietnam.

$30 Million Asked for Jetport at Stewart

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI)— The fourth jetport, previously headed for Long Isand Sound, McGuire Air Force Base in New Jersey or the Jersey Meadowlands, hovered over Albany today en route to a planned landing at Stewart Airport near Newburgh.

Governor Rocekfeller announced Sunday night he was sending a bill to the legislature to appropriate $30 million to expand Stewart into a major, all purpose aviation facility -- providing the metropolitan New York City area with its fourth major jetport.

Stewart, located at the site of the former Stewart Air Force Base, would be more than tripled in size under Rockefeller's plan. The $30 million, most of which would be earmarked for land acquisition, would come from the $2.5 billion transportation bond issue approved by the voters in 1967.

If the legislation is approved, the jetport will have found a "home" after more than a decade of discussion. Earlier jetport proposals have suggested the facility be built in the meadowlands of eastern New Jersey, on concrete pilings in Long Island Sound or at New Jersey's McGuire Air Force Base.

While there is support for the governor's idea in some quarters, homeowners and others in the area are opposed to the jetport. Some say they might begin court action to block the facility.

Stewart Airport consists of 1,535 acres, and official sources said several thousand more acres are needed. Although no estimate of the amount needed for acquisition was available, the sources noted that Kennedy International Airport consists of about 5,000 acres "and we'd need more than that."

Newburgh, located 40 miles up the Hudson River from New York City, is served by the State Thruway and Interstate Route 84.

The Metropolitan Transportation Authority, which took over the field from the Air Force last year, began a study several months ago of the design of a rail spur to serve the area's cargo needs.

The expanded airport, as envisioned by the governor, would serve domestic and international air travellers and air freight needs.

"The New York area has been looking for a new general purpose airport for more than a dozen years," Rockefeller said in a statement issued by his Albany office. "It has been of deep concern to me that the region has been losing job opportunities and business activity to other parts of the country and Canada because we have not had this facility.

"This inadequacy and the current congestion at Kennedy Airport and at other airports has resulted in New York being over-flown," he said. "This region needs this fourth major airport."

Rockefeller said he was "determined" to see to it that the jetport be located at Stewart and to see to it that there is a "minimum disruption to the Newburgh area.

Architects Offer Some Remedies For the Crowded County Building

By LYNN MULVANEY

KINGSTON

Architects estimate that 40,600 additional gross square footage is needed to meet the requirements of the Ulster County Office Building over the next ten years. As a comparison between the existing building and the additional space required, it is noted that the present six story structure is 66,612 gross square feet.

A space study report, issued recently by Architect Albert E. Milliken, which was authorized by resolution in September, 1970, will be discussed by members of the County Legislature Tuesday night following a special meeting on other matters.

The report states that lack of storage space is the biggest single problem, one which nearly every department is faced with and one which becomes more serious each successive year as more files and records are added and more supplies are required.

Overcrowding and lack of work space is another problem, particularly for such departments as the Planning Board, Data Processing, County Clerk and Family Court.

Still another problem exists for departments which have operations which are split between two or more floors. For instance, the Probation Department has space on the second and sixth floor and the Treasurer's Office has space on the first, third and sixth floors.

There are many other individual space related problems which various departments are faced with which result in difficult working conditions and lack of efficiency," Milliken states.

The department requiring the biggest amount of additional space is that of the County Clerk, whose voluminous records already take up many rooms, even with the advent of microfilming recently. Architects, who arrived at their determination of department need, based their findings on questionnaires and interviews with department heads as well as first hand study of the building itself.

The County Clerk's Office will require an additional 5,486 square feet for what is termed general space.

The Civil Defense Department is the second largest requirer of additional space, needing 4,592 square feet for a center in addition to 356 square feet for office and storage space.

The third largest amount of space is required by the Department of Social Services which presently must keep clients waiting in the halls due to lack of room. It is suggested that the welfare department needs 3,000 more square feet of office space, 256 square feet of interview rooms; 200 square feet for storage and 120 square feet for a lounge.

Data processing and the Probation Department are also in need of 2,800 or more square feet each for their facilities with Data Processing needing 2,250 square feet for work spaces and 570 square feet for storage.

Probation Department needs 2,600 square feet for office space and 200 square feet for storage.

No additional space is needed for the county attorney's office and the Veterans Service Agency.

Additional square footage is needed however for the Motor Vehicle Department, 1,959; Family Court, 1,752; County Legislature, 776; Surrogate Court, 900; Planning Board, 332; County Treasurer, 1,828; County Auditor, 244; Board of Elections, 100; Health Department, 1,630; Tax Service Agency, 1,100.

Many departments expressed the need for a meeting or conference room. Milliken said that rather than allow such space for each individual department, "it would seem that meeting rooms could be provided which could be shared by several departments on a scheduled basis." These rooms could also be used for such purposes as Motor Vehicle hearings and Civil Service exams.

The county is apparently obligated to provide space in which outside authorities, such as the State Motor Vehicle Department, can conduct reviews and hearings, Milliken explained. He said that at present, such business is sometimes conducted in corridors due to lack of space. The architect therefore allowed 1,280 square feet for conference rooms and 1,800 square feet for boiler and mechanical room space.

The overall dimensions of the existing building are 78 feet by 122 feet If the additional space required were divided between the six floors and basement, the overall dimensions would be 78 feet by 174 feet.

Milliken said that these figures are not to be construed as a recommendation as to a possible solution to the space problem but are offered for comparison sake only.

If such an addition were made to the building it would mean purchasing additional land, a move previously contemplated by some members of the Legislature, but voted down when the resolution reached the floor.

Vassar Sit-in Continues, Some Offices Blocked

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y. (UPI)—Vowing to continue their sit-in at the school administration building until their main demand is met, several dozen students at Vassar College issued an open letter to fellow students Sunday explaining their actions.

In the letter, those participating in the peaceful protest called for more "visible" support from the 1,600-member student body.

About 100 students continued their sit-in today, and are reportedly awaiting further developments from the administrative level. Attempts to involve an even greater number of Vassar students, have, however, been unsuccessful. A spokesman for the college today said the corridor sit-in remain peaceful although several administrators have been blocked from their offices. The students, however, have not entered those offices.

The sit-in began Thursday in one wing of the building to back a demand for student participation in establishment of a new procedure of faculty evaluation. because of the dismissal of six faculty members.

"We feel that the procedure now employed is often unjust and inexplicit," the demonstrators said in their statement, which was telephoned to those outside. The statement said the estimated 100 young persons taking part in the sit-in "have elected to stay in the building until negotiations begin and the college agrees to the demands."

The protesters said the faculty, in refusing to negotiate directly with the students, have refused to acknowledge "even the possibility" that student opinion may have some validity.

"What is important now is that this protest become more visible so that each time a faculty member or administrator steps outside, he will be reminded of his refusal to honor student opinion and what that refusal is doing to the state of the college," the statement said.

The students have asked that any faculty member whose contract terminates in June of 1971 or 1972 be given the option of remaining on the staff until an appropriate review procedure has been established. The college council, presided over by Alan Simpson, college president, has branded the demand "unacceptable."

Simpson said he hoped ways could be found to give students a more effective voice in the evaluation of faculty but that those involved in the sit-in were breaking college regulations.

The protesters said they considered the firing of the six faculty members "invalid." They said all were popular and respected by students and had demonstrated teaching competence.

City, County To Pay More

ALBANY — Ulster County residents might begin to consider the purchase of that new car or major appliance within the next month or so: the state sales tax jumps a full percentage point on June 1.

State Tax Commissioner Norman Gallman made the announcement today, although the legislature made it official on April 1 by approving the new budget. The sales tax will increase to a maximum of seven per cent.

The City of Kingston will now pay the top rate, seven per cent on the dollar, beginning on June 1. Previously Kingston residents paid six per cent based on three per cent to the state, two per cent to the city and one per cent to the county. County and city base rates did not change. The state raised its maximum from three to four per cent.

Ulster County residents, instead of paying four per cent as previous, based on three per cent for the state and one per cent for the county, will now pay five per cent.

The state legislature approved the one per cent sales tax increase as a means to help balance the state budget this year. It is estimated that the sales tax will bring in more than $300 million.

209 Has Its Share of Accidents

By WALTER S. CLARK
KERHONKSON

A 21-year-old man was injured at 6:30 a.m. Sunday when the car he was driving went out of control and crashed into a tree off Samsonville Road west of Route 209 in the Town of Rochester. Ellenville State Police also investigated two other weekend traffic accidents that resulted in citations.

Meanwhile, area authorities reported other motor vehicles mishaps, some of which resulted in personal injuries.

Trooper J. J. Schetzel reported that Thomas A. Pedersen, 21, of Olivebridge, was westbound on Samsonville Road yesterday morning when he lost control of his car on a curve. The vehicle left the pavement and hit a tree. Pedersen was taken to Ellenville Community Hospital for treatment of possible fractures of the left leg and hip and other injuries. Later he was transferred to Kingston Hospital.

The investigation is continuing.

At 11 p.m. Saturday, a car driven by George Miller, 25, of Napanoch, was westbound on Lower Cherrytown Road four miles north of Kerhonkson, when the operator lost control on a curve. The driver told Trooper Schetzel an unidentified vehicle forced him off the road. Miller was summoned to appear May 12 before Rochester Town Justice Harold Lipton to face a charge of driving at a speed not reasonable and prudent.

Meanwhile, Trooper J. H. Lang of Ellenville, investigated a mishap at 3:40 a.m. Sunday on Route 209, Town of Wawarsing, involving a car driven by James Hornbeck, 17, of Wawarsing. The youth told police he was northbound on the highway when he lost control and the car hit a utility pole.

Hornbeck was cited for failure to keep to the right and unlicensed operation. He had a junior license but violated it by driving after dark, troopers noted.

Another traffic accident occurred on High Point Mountain Road, near West Shokan shortly after 9:15 p.m. Saturday involving a car driven by Larry Carney, 22, of Route 1, Stone Ridge. He told Trooper J.C. Mikesh of Kingston he was westbound when the car failed to negotiate a slight right curve.

The car skidded 60 feet into the opposite lane and rolled down an embankment stopping in a gravel pit. Carney sustained possible internal injuries. Passengers in the car were Catherine Nichols, 42, of Olivebridge, who received abrasions of the forehead, and Wayne Nichols, 16, who suffered severe lacerations of the face and a fractured nose, troopers said.

The injured were taken to Benedictine Hospital by Fatum's Ambualnce.

Kingston troopers also reported a mishap occurred shortly before 7 a.m. Sunday on Sawkill Road near the snack bar. James A. Cannavino, 26, of Chicago, Ill., and Camelot Motor Inn, Poughkeepsie, told trooper D. J. Pitcher of Kingston, he was driving east on the road when his car went out of control on a curve and hit a utility pole.

Cannavino was taken to Benedictine Hospital by Fatum's Ambulance and treated for cut lips and injuries of the left knee.

Dutchess Hunt Continues

ANNANDALE-ON HUDSON — State Police from the Rhinebeck and other stations in the area today continued to comb wooded areas and search abandoned buildings in the Annandale-Barrytown sections of Dutchess County seeking a 26-year-old ex-marine wanted in connection with an assault on a 19-year-old Bard College co-ed.

The student, whose name is withheld by authorities, reportedly was raped by the man at the point of a rifle in a wooded area on the Ward Manor property, a part of the college campus last Thursday night.

While the search continued for Darrell L. Neese of Red Hook in the college and Barrytown sections, all-state teletype alarms were sent out asking poice to be on the lookout for Neese, who may have fled from this area. He is believed to be armed, according to troopers.

Rhinebeck troopers said several residents have reported they saw a man resembling Neese, but each report was checked out with negative results. When last seen Neese was wearing a green camouflaged shirt, western style boots and a Jungle Jim type cap. He is believed to be armed with a rifle.

RV Schedules Accord Meeting

KYSERIKE — An informational meeting for examination of the 1971-72 budget for the Rondout Valley Central School District will be held tonight beginning at 7 p.m. at the Accord Elementary School.

A second budget meeting will be held Wednesday at 7 p.m. in the Marbletown School.

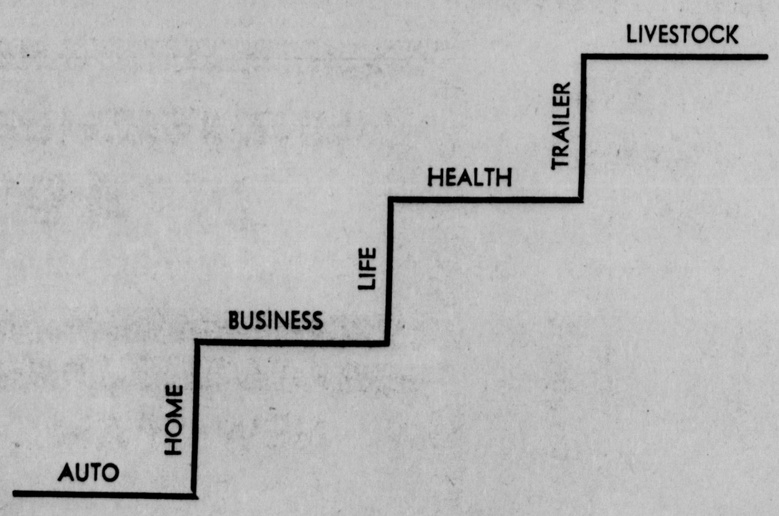

Rondout Valley Board of Education approved a $4,993,568.22 budget last week. That total, however, is subject to change upon completion of contract negotiations with teachers and custodians.

Voting on the budget will take place May 5. Voters may register with the clerk of the board during regular school hours and from 7-9 p.m. today through Wednesday.

COSMONAUTS BACK — Soyuz 10 cosmonauts (L-R) Nikolai Rukavishnikov, Vladimir Shatalov and Alexei Yeliseyev, hold press conference following their return from space Sunday. They terminated efforts at preparing the first orbiting laboratory and returned to earth after only two days flight — briefest manned Soviet flight since the fatal Soyuz One crash in 1967 — and one hook-up with the unmanned Salute sputnik. (TASS PHOTO VIA UPI CABLEPHOTO).

Soyuz 10 Space Trip

Russians Completely Satisfied

MOSCOW (AP) — Col. Vladimir Shatalov, the Soyuz 10 commander, says he and his two crewmen were "completely satisfied" with their two-day space trip to test new docking equipment in space.

The three cosmonauts returned to earth safely Sunday aboard the command ship module after the test of a new docking collar and other equipment for use in building orbital space platforms.

Shatalov told newsmen the flight program was "big, complicated and tense."

Rookie cosmonaut Nikolai Rukavishnikov said: "We are alive, healthy and in one piece." But he said the Soyuz landing module narrowly escaped dropping into a lake.

Descending at the end of an orange parachute at dawn, it touched down only 130 feet from the lake in Soviet Central Asia.

Soyuz 10 docked with the unmanned space station Salute Saturday, and the two craft orbited for 5½ hours locked together.

Salute remains in space, possibly to be used again when Soyuz 11 is sent up.

The Russians did not disclose how their new docking collar works. Negotiations between the Soviet Union and the United States are under way to work out compatible docking equipment so one nation could rescue another's spacecraft if that became necessary.

New electronic finder equipment for docking and rendezvous in space as well as unspecified new accessories also were tested on the Soyuz 10 flight.

Shatalov told Soviet newsmen in Karaganda, 1,800 miles southeast of Moscow: "We are still working toward the creation of an orbital space station. The past decade has seen us move step by step toward the solution of the problem. This flight was one more step."

The Soyuz 10 mission was the briefest Soviet space flight since 1965 and the first manned shot in nearly 11 months.

Shatalov, 43, and engineer Alexei Yeliseyev, 36, made their third space flights. Rukavishnikov, 39, made his first.

Soviet sources before the flight had suggested that a space "spectacular" involving two manned craft, presumably docking with the crewless space station, would be attempted. This did not happen.

Urges Tax Cut

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., called today for a tax cut to stimulate the economy and raise national production.

Proxmire, chairman of the House-Senate Economic Committee, said a Social Security tax increase the administration wants to make retroactive to Jan. 1 should not be put into effect until Jan. 1, 1972.

Soong Dies, Taipei Leader

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— The one-time acting premier of Nationalist China who also served as the nation's foreign minister during World War II, died here Sunday night.

T. V. Soong, once one of the most powerful figures in China who in recent years was a leader in Chinese-American banking circles, collapsed and died at a dinner party at the home of Edward Eu, chairman of the Bank of Canton. He was 77.

The immediate cause of death could not be determined. An autopsy was scheduled for later today.

Soong became Nationalist Chinese foreign minister following the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor. He held the post until 1945, when he briefly became acting premier of the nation.

A member of a prominent Chinese family, Soong was the brother of Madame Chiang Kai-Shek and of Madame Sun Yat-Sen, wife of China's revolutionary hero.

His brother, Soong Ching-Ling currently is one of Communist China's two vice chairmen (vice presidents).

Born in Kwangtung in 1894, Soong was educated at Harvard and Columbia, as well as St. John's University in Shanghai.

Soong was a governor of the Central Bank of China from 1923 to 1933. He joined the Ministry of Finance in 1928, leaving in 1932 to serve as vice president of China's Executive Yuan (Parliament).

In 1933, he was chief delegate to the World Economic Development Congress in London and spent many of the prewar years attempting to finance the Chinese government.

Following his brief tenure as president of the Yuan (a post equivalent to the premiership), Soong became governor of Kwangtung Province, a post he held until the Communist takeover of China in 1949.

After leaving China following the Communist victory, Soong came to New York, where he continued to be active in Chinese banking affairs.

State Secretary Rogers Leaves For Europe and Mideast

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers left today for a two-week tour of Europe and the Middle East in an effort to speed an interim agreement between Egypt and Israel on reopening the Suez Canal.

Rogers' special Air Force jetliner left from nearby Andrews Air Force Base for London, where he will hold talks with British Foreign Secretary Sir Alec Douglas-Home and attend the foreign minister meeting of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO).

Officials said Rogers would tell SEATO members of recent developments in U.S. relations with mainland China and on President Nixon's troop withdrawals in Vietnam.

Following the SEATO meeting, Rogers will fly to Paris for a brief conference with French Foreign Minister Maurice Schumann before continuing to Ankara for the council meeting of the Central Treaty Organization (CENTO)—a loose alliance which links Great Britain, Turkey, Pakistan and Iran.

But the unusual diplomatic effort of Rogers' journey will come following the CENTO meeting when he swings through the Middle East, stopping in Jordan, Saudi Arabia, Lebanon, Egypt, and Israel.

The purpose of this journey, the first by a U.S. secretary of state to the Middle East since 1953, will be to emphasize America's deep desire to see progress on an agreement to reopen the Suez waterway and secondly, its hope for a permanent Mideast peace settlement.

Aides said Rogers does not expect his talks with high officials, including Egyptian President Anwar Sadat and Israeli Prime Minister Golda Meir, will result immediately in an interim agreement under which the Suez Canal could be opened.

The secretary, officials said, would be satisfied if it were possible to narrow the differences between the Egyptian and Israeli positions on reopening the Suez, which has been locked since the Arab-Israeli war of 1967.

Ted Hits Health Coverage

WASHINGTON (AP) — Accusing the health insurance industry of "failure to serve the people," Sen. Edward M. Kennedy today urged adoption of his plan to cover all Americans under one federal health insurance policy.

The Massachusetts Democrat was the leadoff witness at three days of Senate Finance Committee hearings on several different health care proposals, including a health partnership plan of the Nixon administration.

Other first-day witnesses were Elliot L. Richardson, secretary of Health, Education and Welfare; Sen. Clifford P. Hansen, R-Wyo., and Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott.

The Kennedy plan would cover every individual living in the United States for all health services for the prevention and treatment of illness and medical rehabilitation. It would be funded partly from the general U.S. Treasury and partly out of a payroll tax of 3.5 per cent on employers and 1 per cent on employes.

Kennedy, chairman of a separate Health subcommittee, said in his prepared testimony two months of hearings by his panel showed "gross waste and inefficiency" contributing to soaring costs of health care.

"We have heard testimony," he said, "that hospitals are used unnecessarily because insurance covers hospitalization but not outpatient care. We have heard that costly hospital facilities, such as open heart surgery units, are built for prestige reasons, and then paid for by insurance companies."

Hospital charges have tripled in the past decade and physicians fees have risen by 150 per cent, Kennedy said.

To Kingston Savings Bank, "mortgage" is not a dirty word.

Half of our motto is, "Provide for the future."
There's meaning behind those words. And money, too. Money we've allocated specifically for mortgage loans. Not for some far away place where we can get higher rates.
For right here in our county. Now. For you.
If you want to build or buy a home this year, talk to a Kingston Savings Bank mortgage officer. After a brief, confidential talk, if we can say yes, that's what we'll say.
Oh, about the other half of our motto: "Preserve the past." We can apply that to Home Improvement Loans.
In other words, we expect our "loan approved" stamp to wear out rather fast this year.

KATRINE GRANGE ANNIVERSARY — Lake Katrine Grange 1065 celebrated its 65th anniversary Saturday with dinner at The Alpine for members and their guests. James J. Gaddis was honored as the only living charter member and was presented with a 65-year-pin. Taking part in the presentation were (L-R) Harry Carle, past master: Gaddis; Robert Payne, state treasurer and Charles Bahruth, past master. Copeland Gates and Margaret Munson, received 50-year certificates and 25 members got 25-year certificates. (Freeman photo by Kruh).

Battles Rage Close to Saigon

SAIGON (UPI)—Six Americans were killed and 47 wounded in a series of clashes with Communist forces over the weekend and early today. Two of the battles were only 23 miles from Saigon, the closest fighting to the capital this year.

Communists fired 130 rocket and mortar rounds into six U.S. bases Sunday night and early today, wounding 30 Americans, the U.S. command said. Eighty of the rounds were dumped into U.S. positions in northeastern Binh Dinh Province, while the rest were scattered on other American bases.

U.S. Army engineers and armored units, supported by helicopter gunships, battled Communists Saturday in two separate fights 23 miles from Saigon. Six Americans were killed, 17 wounded and one was missing. Communist casualties were not known.

The first fight broke out when Communists attacked the U.S. Army's 20th Engineer Brigade while they were plowing away strips of jungle from near Highway 1. They called in helicopter gunships and artillery but the battle raged for four hours. Four Americans were killed and 13 injured.

The second battle was six miles to the northeast. Another band of Communists clashed with the 2nd Squadron of the 11th Armored Cavalry Regiment eight miles north of Co Chi in a series of running rights that lasted for seven hours. Two Americans were killed, four wounded and one missing in action.

The cavalrymen also lost two Sheridan tanks and an armored personnel carrier. Communist losses were unknown, military spokesmen said.

In Cambodia, Communist forces opened up with mortars and rockets at three points across the country, but government spokesmen said there were no casualties nor damage.

Weekend B52 strikes on the last untouched Communist citadel along South Vietnam's west border may have thwarted a tank attack on the Ben Het border range base, military sources said.

Maj. Gen. Ngo Dzu, commander of South Vietnam's Military Region II, announced the B52 strikes in a briefing for correspondents at Pleiku on the Communist offensive in the central highlands.

After a Saturday night strike on the North Vietnamese Army's Base Area 609, straddling the Laos-Cambodian border just west of South Vietnam's frontier, a Communist gasoline dump blazed for two days, Dzu said. A second strike by the eight-jet U.S. Air Force stratofortresses Sunday night touched off a second gasoline dump, which still was burning today, he said.

Jockeying in Haiti

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP) — A council of several cabinet ministers and special advisors to 19-year-old President Jean-Claude Duvalier is believed ruling Haiti, but the members are reported jockeying for position.

One reason for the apparent smooth sailing of the new regime so far, some observers say, is that no member of the group has the muscle to move alone.

Jean-Claude inherited the presidency last Wednesday on the death of his father, Francois "Papa Doc" Duvalier, who had ruled the Caribbean nation of five million people with an iron hand for 13 years.

Duvalier put through legislation providing for his son to succeed him as "president for life." But the father died before he could give his young, inexperienced son much training and indoctrination in the intricacies of power.

The most prominent members of the ruling council are reported to be Brig. Gen. Claude Raymond, armed forces chief of staff; his brother Adrien, the new foreign minister; Marie Denise Dominique, one of Duvalier's three daughters; her husband, Max, the ambassador to France; Luckner Cambronne, former secret police head who was named minister of interior and defense; and Duvalier's widow, Simone Ovide, now in her 50s.

Gen. Raymond in theory controls the 5,000-man armed forces, but many of the officers and men are believed loyal to Papa Doc's memory and to his family.

Mansfield Sees Draft Foes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield forecasts serious Senate opposition to a two-year extension of the draft in a debate likely to involve the use of draftees in the Vietnam war.

The Senate Armed Services Commitee is expected to com plete action this week, probably Tuesday, on a bill extending the draft and eliminating future deferments for college students.

Its version would permit current undergraduates to keep their deferments until their four years of college are completed.

The House already has approved extending the draft for two years past its June 30 expiration date. Senate debate is due in about wo weeks.

Mansfield said the legislation has faced a comparatively easy path so far but "This time I think it will encounter serious opposition."

He said the effort against the bill will center first on an attempt to end the Selective Service System altogeher, and then, more seriously, on an effort to limit extension to one year.

In addition, Mansfield said, the issue of drafting men for service in South Vietnam appears certain to become part of the debate.

"At least one half and probably more of the casualties have been draftees," Mansfield said.

Such a development could embroil the draft issue in the larger Senate controversy over the war itself. Action is due later on legislation to forbid U.S. spnding for the conflict after the end of this year.

Mansfield said he intends to vote against any extension. "I have never voted for a draft bill, and I don't intend to vote for this one," he said.

Sen. Mark O. Hatfield, R-Ore., also is working for an end to the draft and the substitution of an all-volunteer armed force.

"I cannot stress too strongly the profound weakening of our social fiber, the undermining of the individual's faith in his government and his hope for the future the military draft inculcates," Hatfield said.

Capt. Kotouc Trial

FT. McPHERSON, Ga. (AP) — Capt. Eugene M. Kotouc, an intelligence officer charged with maiming and assaulting a Viet Cong suspect after U.S. troops assaulted the village of My Lai in 1968, goes on trial today.

Kotouc, 37, a stocky, baldish paratrooper from Humboldt, Neb., faces a maximum sentence of 10 years imprisonment if convicted by a military jury of seven career Army officers chosen earlier.

He is the fourth soldier to be court-martialed on criminal charges arising from an alleged massacre at May Lai and its aftermath. Two enlisted men were acquitted of assault and Lt. William L. Calley Jr. was convicted of murdering 22 civilians during the operation.

The Army said Kotouc did not take part in the actual assault. But, as the intelligence officer for Task Force Baker, he was assigned to interrogate suspects afterwards. The task force provided the assault troops for the operation.

Worth 64, Jacksonville 57, Little Rock 60, Los Angeles 48, Miami 73, New York 40, Phoenix 43, San Francisco 48, Seattle 45, St. Louis 46 and Washington 44 degrees.

MONDAY, APRIL 26, 1971

Sun rises at 5 a.m.; sun sets at 6:48 p.m., E.S.T.

Weather: Variable clouds.

The Temperature

The lowest temperature recorded on The Freeman thermometer during the night was 36 degrees. The highest figure recorded up to noon today was 48 degrees.

Weather Forecast

ALBANY (UPI)—Forecast for upstate New York:

Lower Hudson Valley—Variable clouds today, high in low 50s. Partly cloudy tonight, low in the 30s. Tuesday, fair, high in the upper 50s. The wind west to northwest 8-15 both days, light tonight.

Mohawk Valley, western Catskills and upper Hudson Valley region—Cloudy and cool today, scattered light showers, high in the middle 40s to low 50s. Partly cloudy tonight, low in the 30s. Tuesday, fair, high in the 50s.

Assemblymen Discuss Problem

Gypsy Moth Concerns Bell

ALBANY — Assemblyman H. Clark Bell (R-Woodstock) was one of a group of Mid-Hudson Valley and Long Island Assemblymen to recently meet to discuss the problem of gypsy moth infestation.

Chairing the meeting was Assemblyman Clarence D. "Larry" Lane, chairman of the Assembly Conservation Committee. Participating in the meeting besides Bell were Assemblymen Benjamin A. Gilman (R-Middletown), Edwyn E. Mason (R.-Stamford) and Robert C. Wertz (R-Commack).

Widespread infestation by the insects has caused extensive defoliation of tree species in the Hudson Valley and Long Island areas in recent years. The Department of Environmental Conservation has held the invasion in check in previous years with a restricted spray of insecticides. The department is expected to announce shortly how it will deal with the spring larva hatching season due next month.

Environmental Conservation Commissioner Henry L. Diamond and his department personnel from the Division of Lands and Forests were called to the Assembly to provide current information on the extent of gypsy moth infestation and the areas most seriously affected.

Members of the Ways and Means staff also attended the meeting to consider fiscal implications.

Discussion centered on the merits of spray control.

The insecticide Sevin (carbaryl) has been used in the past to supplement natural controls, and biological controls have been experimented with.

The new state budget provides funds for a substantial protion of those areas where natural controls are considered insufficient to deal with the problem. The conference discussed providing additional funds in the supplemental budget to cover spraying of additional lands now known to be heavily infested with the moths.

Diamond and his staff were brought to the Assembly at the request of the Assemblymen whose districts have been affected by this problem.

Bell said, "Hopefully, in the future, greater use of biological controls can be used to control the gypsy moth. Right now, however, based upon the information supplied by Commissioner Diamond's staff, many acres of prime foliage lands are severely infested and steps must be taken chemically to curb the gypsy moths during this spraying season."

THE PROBLEM AREA—Ulster County Assemblyman H. Clark Bell (L), points to areas in Ulster County where the gypsy moth problem is expected to hit hard this year as Environmental Conservation Commissioner Henry L. Diamond looks on. Concerned Assemblymen from the Mid-Hudson and Long Island areas affected met with Commissioner Diamond last week to discuss the problem.

Ulster Math Department To Display Calculators

STONE RIDGE — The Mathematics Department of Ulster County Community College will display and demonstrate 17 electronic calculators at the college's annual Open House Sunday, May 2.

Members of the department will demonstrate the machines in Room 412 of the John Burroughs Science Building at the Stone Ridge campus continuously from 2 to 5 p.m.

These machines recently were acquired in a federal grant to the college totalling more than $27,000. They include small machines capable of basic arithmetic operations, larger machines with push-button square root and some programability, and a large system capable of extensive programming, displaying information and drawing graphs. Some of the machines print results on a tape, some display information on nixie-tubes and some have cathode ray tube output.

The speed at which these machines operate is dazzling. While none are full-fledged computers, the machines are a significant advancement over common desk calculators.

The Mathematics Department plans to demonstrate statistics, programs generating home mortgage payments, and graphs of mathematical curves, and this should be a fascinating part of the college's third annual open house.

Meanwhile, a talk on Mathematics and the Imagination will be given by Dr. Ernest R. Ranucci, a leading mathematics authority, at the Stone Ridge campus of the college Wednesday, April 28, at 7:30 p. m.

The program, being sponsored by the Mathematics and Physical Science Division at the College, will be held in Room 420 of the John Burroughs Science Building. There is no admission charge and is open to the public.

Dr. Ranucci, Professor of Mathematics Instruction at the State University of New York at Albany, has been in mathematics teaching for 38 years. In that time he has taught mathematics in 15 countries and handled courses ranging from kindergarten through the college level.

3 Are Treated At Hospital In City Crash

KINGSTON — Three persons were taken to Benedictine Hospital late Sunday night after the cars in which they were riding were involved in a collision at the intersection of Washington Avenue and Main Street. No serious injuries were reported.

Police reported the vehicles were operated by Gabriella Auriemmo, 60, of 84B Fairmont Avenue, and Walter H. Weber, 22, of Spring Lake Mobile Homes, Kingston.

Mrs. Auriemmo complained of a whiplash injury of the neck. Barbara Weber, 24, wife of the driver on one vehicle, complained of head injuries, and six-week-old Scott Weber was examined at the hospital for possible injuries.

Local Youth Faces Six MV Charges in City

KINGSTON — A 19-year-old youth was cited by Kingston Police at 5:40 p.m. Sunday for six vehicle and traffic law violations.

Sergio A. Platts, whose address was listed as 62 Van Buren Street, is scheduled to appear in City Court to face charges of driving an uninspected motor vehicle, failure to keep to the right, driving a vehicle with inadequate muffler, making an unsafe start, causing an unnecessary noise with the tires of his car and driving at a speed not reasonable and prudent.

Hole in Iron Curtain

Thanks to a number of "well placed and courageous Russians," the United States knew just what to look for in Cuba when it learned that the Soviet Union was placing missiles there, according to Richard Helms, director of the Central Intelligence Agency.

Helms made the disclosure in his first public speech in five years as head of CIA. He spoke to the American Society of Newspaper Editors. He told them it would be unthinkable to conclude a strategic arms limitation agreement with the Soviet Union without the means for monitoring compliance. Also, he told the editors that U.S. intelligence will have a major role on any international agreement to limit strategic arms.

On the Cuban missiles, Helms said thanks to U-2 photographs of the Soviet Union and to "a number of well placed and courageous Russians who helped us—including a wealth of information on Soviet Missile systems," the CIA had descriptions or photographs of the missiles, their transporters and other associated equipment, and characteristic sites in the Soviet Union. We knew what to look for.

One of our Russian informers was shot to death by a firing squad. There is no good reason to endanger others at this time, but we hope they have covered their activities so well that they will not be caught. The headlines that would tell the story could not possibly be worth their deaths.

Economy's Sharp Rebound

Automobile production made the difference. Led by booming automobile output and sales, the nation's economy rebounded strongly the first quarter of this year as against the same period a year ago. The rise was the steepest since 1958 in a single quarter, according to the Department of Commerce.

The Gross National Product, the nation's output of goods and services, increased by $28.5 billion in the quarter. It was a 12 per cent rise in dollar value, the largest in 13 years. The figure indicated that the economy is pulling out of last year's slowdown, and it is on the way to achieve the Nixon administration's hopes for the year's goal.

The dark side of this picture is that inflation continued to gallop above the five per cent level. The rate for the first quarter was 5.2 per cent, down from the previous quarter adjusted 5.9 per cent, but still high by economic standards. The goal is to bring inflation down to a manageable three per cent by mid-1972.

The Nixon administration was shooting for a gain of at least $30 billion in the first quarter to reach its goal of $1.065 trillion this year. The first three months reached an adjusted annual rate of $1.018 trillion, a nice rise but short of the goal, unless it is regarded as the first step in achieving the goal. That is the administration's position, and it has earned a right to be optimistic on the first quarter showing.

"I was the blackest guy in town last night," said Dr. R. Wiley Brownlee, white principal of an Ypsilanti, Mich., high school after klan-clothed men poured tar and feathers over him. His good-natured response contrasted sharply with the sneaky group that attacked him.

Banks may not purchase and sell securities for its customers, the Supreme Court ruled. Justice Potter Stewart wrote that for banks to get into the investment business would create the hazards and abuses Congress sought to eliminate 40 years ago after the stock market crash. Better safe than sorry.

President Nixon is basically opposed to abortions because they conflict with his belief in the "quality and sanctity of life." He has struck down a liberal policy and ordered military hospitals to comply with restrictive laws in states where they are located.

The Class Will Come to Order

David Lawrence Says
Red China Seeks to Gain Greater Role in World Trade

WASHINGTON — Red China's gesture opening a "new page" in its relations with the United States is considered by officials here to be part of a planned effort by the Peking government to play a more important role in world affairs.

What this really means is that Communist China's fear of the Soviet Union has motivated a desire to end its isolation from the west not only by beginning to establish friendly relations with the United States but by doing the same with respect to many of the other nations of the world.

While the Russian military threat in Siberia and Central Asia is said to be a factor in Red China's recent moves, the probability is that Peking has also viewed with some concern the spectacular economic growth of Japan, and has come to regard it as essential to build better relationships around the globe.

There will be some controversy about having two Chinese governments in the United Nations. As a practical matter, however, this may not bar friendly relations from developing between Peking and Washington. The Red Chinese may or may not decide to enter the U.N. while Nationalist China is a member, but this will be looked upon as something for the Nationalist and Mainland Chinese to settle among themselves. Numerous countries in Africa which were formerly colonies of Britain or France or other European nations now are members of the U.N. Indeed, there are 41 African countries which hold seats in the world body. The presence of two Chinas might be acceptable generally at some future time.

What is most interesting at present is the policy being pursued by the Red Chinese government in its efforts to promote trade and other contacts with western countries, including the United States. The expectation is that tensions will be reduced as this process goes on. If the relationship between Communist China and the United States continues to develop on a friendly basis in the next year or two, diplomatic recognition probably will be mutually extended and representatives will be exchanged in the normal manner. In the meantime, many of the restrictions on trade and commerce — and on the travel of Americans to the mainland of China — are being removed.

Communist China is anxious for its new attitude toward the United States to be fully understood and reciprocated in this country. The visit of American table tennis players to Red China was an unusual way to focus public attention on the opening of the doors of both countries which had been closed to each other for more than 20 years.

But as always happens in diplomacy, the underlying reason for the important step that Red China has just taken is the desire to accomplish something which will benefit the Peking government. It seeks a way to share to a greater extent in world trade and perhaps to regain the friendship that China once had with the United States.

This could lead to a more stabilized situation on the Asian continent. For if the Peking regime is interested in expanding its trade and maintaining amicable relations with the free nations, it would have less reason for sending munitions and weapons to assist revolutionaries in various areas or to aid a nation — as has been the case with North Vietnam — in its aggression against another country.

Rumors are already emanating from the Soviet Bloc Conference at Sofia, Bulgaria, indicating that Moscow is unhappy about Red China's change in attitude toward the United States and presumably anticipates that Peking may not continue as an active ally in Vietnam. If the government of Red China became a truly peaceful one and adopted a policy of non-interference in the affairs of other nations, the chances are that its prestige would increase along with its volume of trade. The population of mainland China today is approximately 800,000,000, and the need for a rising standard of living has long been obvious. At the least, it may be said that the practical side of government has won out in Peking.

Red China sees that there is much to be gained by a development of friendship with the United States. America, on its part, would like to be of any help it can to the Chinese people.

TEE-TIME DOUBLE-TALK

Golf weather is here and millions of amiable maniacs are dusting clubs and bags and phoning for starting times. Some, in the long winter layoff, forget the terminology of the game, so the following glossary is compiled to be hung inside the locker:

LINKS — A group of frankfurters before they are divorced. Also, a golf course, known to psychiatrists as the best repository for hostility.

FIVE IRON — The club to be used when the distance to the green calls for a seven.

MULLIGAN — A nauseous stew boiled by bums. Also, a larcenous second shot from a tee employed by hackers who propel the ball to the same spot as the first one.

LIE — Things golfers tell each other. Also the position of the ball on the earth. A lie may be improved by the golfer's foot. This is called a first down.

TEE — The first half of an adolescent girl's laugh. The second half is "hee." Also a tiny wooden stick from which a ball may be hit at furthest distance from the hole; where misery gives way to despair.

TRAP — Also referred to as bunker. The ideal spot from which to hit the second shot. All traps are composed of sand and footprints, more of the latter than the former. It is also a brief course in obscene language.

ITLLPLAY — A kaleidoscoped phrase used by your opponent when your tee shot stops (A) behind a tree; (B) on the ladies' tee; (C) six inches in a lake; (D) the driving range.

PUTT — When you and the ball are so close to the hole that you can see it but the ball can't.

GIMME — Any ball lying within 15 feet of the hole. In these situations, it is best to putt with one hand; if the ball doesn't fall in the hole, the player says: "I wasn't putting."

WOOD — a poorly engineered club used to flog the top ten per cent of a ball in an effort to hit long. From this comes the derogatory British term "bounder" and the American term of consolation: "It's a fighter."

BLUE TEES — The place from which the worst hackers hit.

WHITE TEES — A 20 yard advantage over the blues, with the same dismal result.

RED TEES — The place from which momma hits, standing incorrectly, holding the club wrong, using a back swing which bruises her shoulder blades, driving the ball 20 yards beyond dad.

SHANK — A shapeless bag. Also an illegal left or right turn in the flight of the ball, resulting in the golfer recalling God by both first and last names.

PRO — In prostitution, a girl with a career. In golf, a man with a career.

PAR — Perfect golf. In Wall Street, the true value of a stock. Both equally unachievable.

IRON — Ten clubs in a bag intended for 10 different problems, all of them excruciating.

LIP — The overhanging-edge of a trap on which your ball gets caught. Also the repartee you get from your golf partner.

SLICE — What half the golfers do when trying to hit a straight ball.

HOOK — The addiction of the other half.

BALL RETRIEVER — The fifteenth, and most important club in the bag.

DIVOT — A green layer cake which emerges from the fairway after a mighty swing. In most cases, it does not disturb the ball.

BLAST — A trouble shot from a trap beside the green. The player hits two inches behind the ball and purposely drenches himself with sand. Also a British curse word as a result of the result.

HEAD — A round object which connects the neck to the body. In business, it is used for thinking. In golf, it flies upward in the backswing.

FLAG — Sometimes called the pin. A metal object with a pennant stuck in a hole. It is placed on the putting green in an unplayable position by a sadistic groundskeeper who cannot play the game.

CARD — also referred to as "the score." An assortment of 18 parallel numbers in which it becomes obvious that the player knows little about addition, but is a master at subtraction.

FOLLOW-THROUGH — The door between the locker room and the bar. Also the completion of a swing. The first can be pushed. The second can't.

CADDY — A myopic dwarf who carries two bags and is paid to commiserate with the golfer. Tragically, each drives the other to drink.

Okay, guys. Tee time. . .

Jack Anderson Says
Is the Pentagon Counting Combat Deaths as Accidental?

WASHINGTON — The question has been raised whether the Army is covering up battle casualties by counting them as non-combat deaths.

Rep. William Ford, D-Mich., became suspicious when he learned that a young Vietnam combat veteran, whose death was attributed by the Army to non-combat injuries, arrived home with three slugs in his body.

Ford asked the Library of Congress to analyze the casuality figures. Astonishingly, the study showed that non-combat deaths per thousand men in Indochina had jumped from 2.7 in 1966 to five in 1970.

This means the Pentagon was attributing twice as many fatalities per thousand to non-combat causes in 1970 as in 1966. President Nixon could boast on TV that the casualty figures were down, therefore, when the actual death rate was as high as ever.

Congressman Ford fired off a private letter to Defense Secretary Mel Laird demanding whether the "bodies of our dead in Indochina" are "being used in some sort of grisly numbers game. . .

"Are we deliberately counting some combat deaths as accidental," asked Ford, "just to show a lower killed-in-action rate for political purpose?"

We went over the casualty figures with a Pentagon spokesman whose arithmetic showed an increase in the non-combat fatality rate from 2.7 in 1966 to 5.5 in 1970 — an even larger increase than the Library of Congress figures. Yet incredibly, he refused to recognize his own arithmetic and insisted there had been no increase in the non-combat rate. He stoutly denied that the Pentagon is playing games with America's war dead.

Wallace Investigation

Gerald Wallace, brother of the Alabama Governor, has loudly accused President Nixon of playing politics with his taxes.

We owe it to the President to set the record straight. He didn't start the investigation into Wallace's tax records.

We did.

Charged Gerald Wallace: "The investigation in regard to the Wallace campaign is purely political. The only person that President Nixon fears in 1972 is George Wallace."

The truth is that we stimulated the tax investigation back in 1968 before Nixon became President.

We learned that one of George Wallace's political fund raisers had collected kickbacks on liquor sales to Alabama state liquor stores. We traced under-the-table payments of more than $138,000 to Robert Millsap from the Birmingham food brokers, Bolling and Huey.

We got hold of cancelled checks, which showed the payments began shortly after Wallace first became governor in 1963. Informants told us that the liquor kickbacks were routed through the Wallace brothers' Montgomery, Ala., law firm.

We also picked up reports of other kickbacks involving state highway paving contracts, textbook sales and engineering contracts.

Wallace Law Practice

Respected members of the Alabama legal community advised us that the Wallaces never had an active law practice. Indeed, Gerald Wallace was only three years out of law school when his brother became governor.

Although Gerald was seldom seen in court, he managed to funnel enough money through the law office to move from a modest apartment to a 315-acre country estate — complete with a private swimming pool, scenic lake, wooden dock with an elegant gazebo at the end, special quarters for his hunting dogs and their attendant, and a herd of cattle.

We submitted our findings to Sheldon Cohen, then the Internal Revenue Commissioner, who properly ordered an investigation. We were able to report in November, 1968 that a tax investigation was already in progress.

President Nixon merely inherited it when he moved into the White House the following January. The President was fully aware he would be accused of playing politics if he went ahead with the investigation of the Wallaces. White House aides, therefore, asked the Internal Revenue Service for a summary of the investigation.

To the President's credit, he refused to kill the investigation despite the political embarrassment it could cause him.

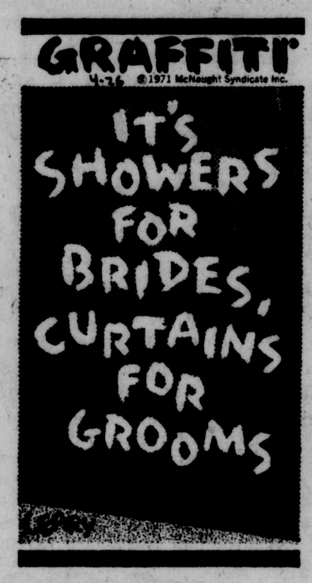

The tax agents, meanwhile, checked into our reports and found supporting evidence. The audit division found that Gerald Wallace allegedly has omitted legal-fee income from his tax returns in 1967 and 1968.

Now the findings have been turned over to a grand jury.

Pesticide Problem

Once again the Agriculture Department has bowed to the big pesticide makers. The Department is still allowing the use of Endrin to control field mice in orchards. The Endrin pollutes the ground, kills small birds and eventually finds its way into our water system.

But rather than buck such congressmen as Jamie Whitten, who controls the Department's purse strings, Agriculture keeps on permitting the Endrin use. A far better control for mice, say experts, is zinc phosphide. But it's also less profitable for the chemical companies.

GOP Governors Cool on McCloskey

BRUCE BIOSSAT

WASHINGTON (NEA) — It's no surprise that a healthy sampling of opinion among Republican governors who convened at Williamsburg turned up not a single one who thinks dovish Rep. Paul N. (Pete) McCloskey of California could hurt President Nixon in the 1972 primaries.

The question is: How much caution should be applied to these findings almost a year ahead of the voting?

Seasoned political appraisers keep harking back to the Eugene McCarthy movement and the unseating of incumbent President Lyndon Johnson in 1968. The argument is that politics these days is more explosive and less predictable, so maybe no incumbent is sure any more of a second nomination by his party.

But some of the governors and GOP analysts at Williamsburg suggested this sounds a little like generals in a new war fighting the last previous war. They don't think 1968 has many useful parallels for the Republicans in 1972.

Said Gov. John Love of Colorado:

"With Nixon emerging for the Republicans in 1968, anti-war people felt that only by dumping LBJ could they get a sharply different Vietnam policy. In 1972, anybody who doesn't like Nixon's policy can just vote Democratic and get something different."

That's one variation. Another is that the Republican party has no element so fluid and volatile as the Democratic left which produced McCarthy. Leftish Democrats tend toward maverick behavior. And their unorthodox actions capture press attention. Their GOP counterparts are pale copies. Says a veteran analyst:

"Republican liberals are not very adventurous."

Governors like Francis Sargent of Massachusetts and William Milliken of Michigan said at their Virginia meeting that they, as liberals, would be lining up behind Nixon. No one expects men like Sen. Edward Brooke of Massachusetts and Charles Percy of Illinois to do otherwise.

Even if GOP moderates and liberals wanted to do something drastic about Nixon, their prospects would have to be rated slim. In 1964 and 1968, when the party's presidential nomination was wide open, they blew it badly. Their efforts to coalesce were pathetic. It is hard to see them mustering the stuff to knock off their own incumbent.

Most of them don't even want to try. Such governors as Robert Ray of Iowa, Walter Peterson of New Hampshire, Stanly Hathaway of Wyoming and Linwood Holton of Virginia think Nixon will have the war greatly defused by 1972. They doubt that McCloskey, handsome Marine veteran of the Korean war, will have an issue.

The unhappiness of some governors with Nixon never has been of the "breaking" order. Hopeful on both the war and the economy, they are easing off on earlier complaints — "negative tone" in the 1970 campaign (finger Vice President Agnew), weak channels of contact, lack of candor.

Most Republicans tapped at Williamsburg, then, feel the situation runs against McCloskey. They see the war issue deserting him, the party by long habit cold to maverick challenge, the still vigorous antiwar forces concentrating on busy Democratic primaries.

One GOP expert sees just a single danger for Nixon, that he might take alarm and attempt a heavy-handed "overkill" against McCloskey. The President won't suffer, the man adds, "unless somebody loses his cool and gives McCloskey a windfall."

Letters to The Editor

Socialist Labor Party

This letter has been sent to Assemblyman H. Clark Bell:

"I am a member of a minority party, the Socialist Labor Party, one of the oldest parties in these United States.

I understand there is a bill (S3458) already passed by the State Senate that will increase the requirements for obtaining a place on the State Ballot by the Socialist Labor Party and other minority parties.

This bill will be considered by the State Assembly.

I urge you, in the interest of a free ballot, to speak up and vote against this bill aimed at minority parties in New York State.

As far as I am concerned, ALL legitimate political parties should automatically appear on the ballot so that voters will truly be able to vote for the candidates of their choice instead of being restricted.

Let's not do as others have done. Let the voters vote for whoever they want.

Thank you."

Yours sincerely,

'Blue Patrol'

Editor, The Freeman:

I noticed a new article in your paper which I found to be both interesting and informative called "Blue Patrol." The one article deals on safety with bicycles which everyone knows are on the streets more and more. The others deal with rules and regulations of cars on the highway. So many drivers don't know the regulations and this article really speaks out very plain.

If all drivers would take the time to read these articles, I'm sure it would make for safer, more courteous drivers.

I hope to see this article continued keeping us informed of any new rules and regulations also.

Sincerely,
MRS. ANN MIRALDI

School Board Member's Trips

Editor, The Freeman:

In response to Mr. Weiner's question concerning trips by School Board Members I would like to submit the following:

During the 1970-71 school year I have attended three conferences which I consider major trips. This is one more than I attended last year and probably one more than I will attend during most years. The first conference was the New York State School Board Association at Syracuse, New York; the second conference was the American Association of School Administrators at Atlantic City, New Jersey; the third conference was the National School Board Association at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. A total of 12 days were spent in attendance at these conferences. Five were on weekend days and the other seven were working days.

Besides the conference days there are occasional noon time and late afternoon meetings which also eat into my working day. My employer kindly allows me to provide this public service during working hours. However, it is my responsibility to make certain that my project is not seriously affected. I must spend additional time on the job when necessary to make certain that my project is not adversely affected. I don't know my exact personal expenditures for these trips but 10 days lodging probably averaged $20 a day and 12 days of meals probably averaged $15 a day. Lodging and meals probably cost the taxpayers $380.

The transportation was furnished by school vehicles and I doubt that my apportionment would exceed $40. An extremely liberal total cost would be somewhat less than $500.

I feel that attendance at these conferences is my duty if I can find the time. First of all, every facet of education administration, current day problems and educational equipment are covered in the form of clinics, films, seminars and exhibits. At the New York State School Board conference experts in every facet of education are available for individual consultation. This I have found to be extremely helpful on specific problems I am convinced with.

First of all I am not an educator but a layman in terms of education. Therefore, I feel that besides using the common sense and intelligence that I may or may not have, it is my duty to learn as much about this business as possible so that I can be informed, aware and more effective. Personally, if I am not allowed to learn my job adequately, I don't want the job.

Incidentally, my wife performs my answering service when I am not at home and that is a good deal of the time since I average two Board meetings per week. As a result she has become interested in the School District as well. Occasionally she attends some of these conferences with me and has shown a genuine interest in the clinics and seminars that she has attended. I, of course, pay for her expenses and since she has shown an interest, I feel it is some small payment from me to her for all of the evenings she has had to spend alone because I am on school board business.

During the 1969-1970 school year I attended approximately 75 board meetings of various types (committee meetings, public meetings, special meetings and conference meetings). These meetings average from four to five hours in duration. This means that I spend at least 300 hours per school year performing my service to the community. I won't bother adding in the additional time spent at home perusing the numerous documents that a school board member receives, or talking to the public on the telephone concerning school matters. I am told that I could charge the School District for mileage expense (round trip — 8 miles) to and from these meetings. I make this a donation to the District.

For over 300 hours of service, it costs the taxpayers less than $500 to teach me my job and make me aware of the current status of the education world. Since school board members receive no salary for their services, this seems to me a reasonable cost to the taxpayers. It is also interesting to note that the Central Administrators are present at these numerous meetings in the evenings besides fulfilling their daytime duties. On top of this, according to the Mid-Hudson School Study Council, there is only one school district out of 48 in the Mid-Hudson area that has a lower per pupil expenditure for Central Administration.

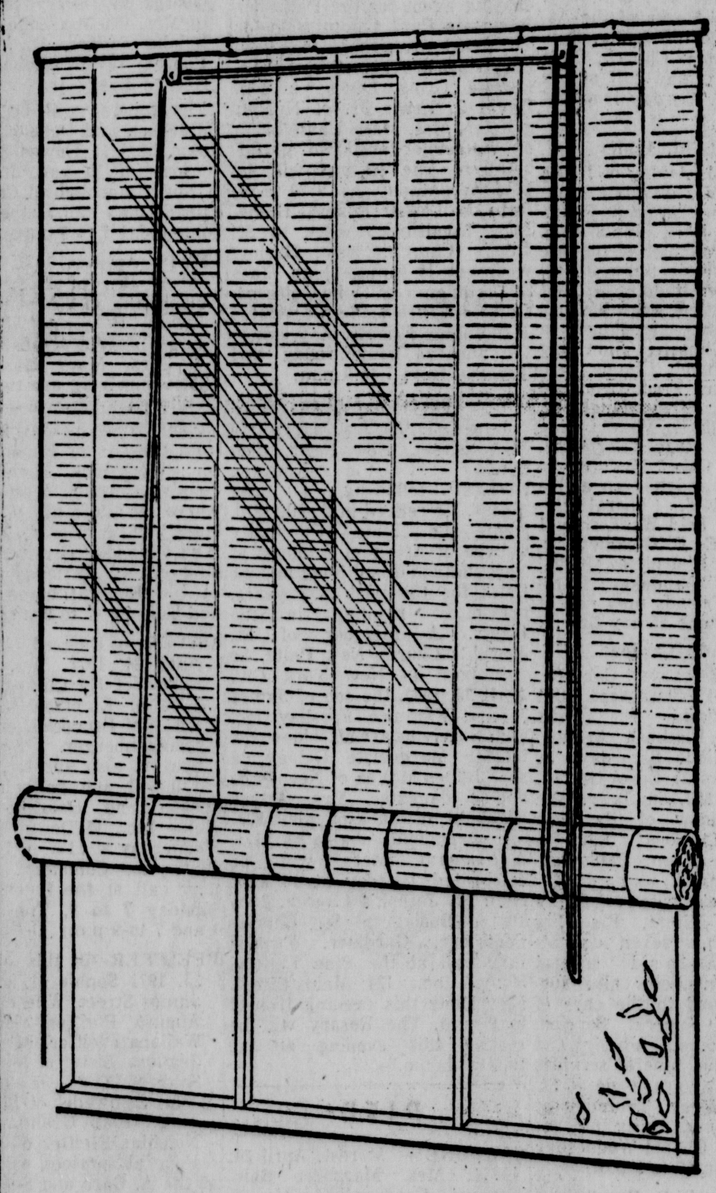

I had no particular bone of contention when I ran for the School Board. My sole purpose was to provide a service. It is easy for some people to make sounds when they are not well informed. It is difficult for me to make sounds unless I am well informed. I suggest that anyone running for the School Board should be prepared to spend much time at this job or I submit that they will be ill informed and not performing this community service adequately. Please understand that these are my own opinions as an individual necessarily the opinions of the board as a whole.

Inmate Takes A Walk From Wallkill Detail

WALLKILL, N. Y. (AP) — A 46-year-old inmate at the medium security Wallkill Correctional Facility walked away from his work detail today and is the object of a widespread search.

Prison Superintendent Nelson Otis identified the man as Richard Shreeve of Buffalo, serving time on a manslaughter conviction.

Otis said Shreeve was "a good inmate, no trouble to us" and had been granted the privilege working an outside detail on his own for the past year. Shreeve took care of the prison dump.

Otis said the man disappeared at about 10:30 a.m. Some off duty guards were called in and road blocks established. About 40 correction officers and 25 state troopers were manning the roadblocks, Otis said.

Shreeve was described as white, about 5 foot 11, and 180 pounds. Prison authorities said he had a slight limp. He was transferred from Attica Correctional Facility over one year ago.

Otis said all the shops in the facility have been shut down and inmates remanded to their cells.

He added that Shreeve was chosen to work outside the facility based on his prison record. He said the man "wasn't considered an escaper."

Otis said Shreeve was wearing grey prison garb and a brown sheepskin jacket.

Body Found In Wallkill

MONTGOMERY, N.Y. (UPI) —The body of Raymond Enright, 49, was found floating in the Wallkill River Sunday, 10 days after he was reported missing. State police said an autopsy would be performed to determine the cause of death.

The body was found about 200 yards from his home in this Orange County community.

Assistant DA Is Guest Speaker

KINGSTON — Assistant District Attorney Ellen G. Donovan was guest speaker recently at the monthly meeting of the Ulster County Magistrate's Association. Miss Donovan briefed the magistrates on the new penal law which goes into effect Sept. 1.

Additional meetings of an informational nature concerning the code of criminal procedure will be held between now and September with plans made at the dinner meeting in May at a place to be announced.

The association met Thursday night in the Surrogate's office

Lab Results Awaited on Body Of Area Youth

HYDE PARK — Investigation of the death of a 20-year-old youth whose body was discovered in a wooded area a quarter of a mile from his home in this township Saturday, is being continued and laboratory reports are awaited.

Chief Detective Charles Borchers of the sheriff's staff said the cause of death of Stephen G. Robinson of 11 Ledgewood Drive had not been determined. Borchers reported vital organs had been removed from the youth's body and sent to the New York City medical examiner's office for analysis.

Police said the youth was seen by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Robinson last Tuesday when he left home. The body was found by the elder Robinson. Borchers said examination of the body disclosed no marks that would indicate violence.

New York Job Loss at 62,000

NEW YORK (UPI) — New York City suffered a net loss of 62,000 jobs in the 12-month period ending in February 1971, the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics reported Saturday.

Herbert Bienstock, the director of the bureau's New York-Northeastern New Jersey office said 58,000 of the 62,000 jobs were lost in manufacturing, particularly in the apparel industry. The remaining 4,000 jobs he said, were lost in non-manufacturing areas.

The total employment in the city at the end of February was set at 3,692,000.

The statistics also showed that the average weekly salary of factory production workers in the area rose $1.11 last February to a new high of $139.01. Over the year, weekly earnings were said to have increased $7.63.

Name Speaker For Jurors' Annual Dinner

KINGSTON — Guest speaker at the Grand Jurors Association dinner May 19 will be Howard C. St. John, former District Attorney of Ulster County and former president of the Ulster County Bar Association.

The 36th annual dinner of the association will be held at the Walnut Grove, Kingston starting 7 p.m. Honored guest will be Joseph P. Torraca, former county district attorney. Present District Attorney Francis J. Vogt will be master of ceremonies.

Deadline for reservations is May 14. Mrs. Everett M. Howard, RD 1, Box 375 A, Kingston, may be contacted for invitations and further information.

St. John, a member of the law firm of St. John, Ronder and Bell, and president of Ulster County Savings Bank, has served on the executive committee of the New York State Conference of Bar Association Presidents. He has headed numerous financial drives and participated in many civic movements.

Kindergarten Registration For Onteora

BOICEVILLE — Ronald P. Vanni, director of elementary education at Onteora Central Schools, announced this week that kindergarten registration for September will be held on Tuesday and Wednesday, April 27 and 28 according to the following schedule:

Bennett School, Tuesday, 9-11 a.m., Wednesday, 1-3 p.m.

Phoenicia School, Tuesday, 1-3 p.m., Wednesday, 9-11 am.

West Hurley School, Tuesday, 9-11 a.m., Wednesday, 1-3 p.m.

Woodstock School, Tuesday, 1-3 p.m. Wednesday, 9-11 a.m.

In order to be eligible for kindergarten in September, a child must be five years old on or before December 1, 1971. Proof of the child's birthdate, in the form of a birth or baptismal certificate, and a complete health history form should be presented when the child is registered. Health history forms will be mailed in the letters informing parents of the registration location.

Police Probing Two Burglaries

ELLENVILLE — A burglary at Rosen's Drug Store at 15 Market Street, this village, and the theft of barber's tools from a shop at 1A Kossar Place, were under investigation today by village police.

Sergeant Otis Brown discovered a door open at the pharmacy as he was making a routine check of business establishments late Friday night. A lock on another door had been tampered with, police said. Authorities said it had not been determined what, if anything, had been taken from the drug store.

On Saturday, Nathan Shorter complained to police that a number of tools were missing from his barber shop. No value was reported on the articles.

PONCKHOCKIE Y PROGRAM — A new YMCA program for Ponckhockie neighborhood youngsters got underway recently with the old St. Ursula's gym as the focal point of after-school recreational activities on Friday for fourth through fifth graders of the John F. Kennedy School. James Billups, community programs director of the Y, is shown here with some of the youngsters (L) Mike Klonowski, Mark Brown, Lester Washington and Charles Dasher. About 50 youngsters are now involved in the program of kickball, football, wrestling, races, baseball and basketball. Six of the youths have joined the Y with four receiving financial support through the organization's self-help membership plan. (Freeman photo by Kruh).

Olive Seniors To Hear of Drug Problems

ASHOKAN — Two members of the Renaissance Facility of Ellenville will speak at the next meeting of the Senior Citizens Club of the Town of Olive, 1 p.m., May 6, in the Veterans Hall, Ashokan.

The Renaissance Group will discuss the drug problem and the work of the facility in its treatment of the addicts. This is one of the topics in the Club's civic problems program.

Rudolph Fritz of Watson Hollow, West Shokan, a club member, and a delegate from Ulster County to the recent Washington, D.C. Conference on Aging reported on the Conference at the April 15 meeting of the club.

The members heard with interest Fritz's recording of Senator Percy's address to the Conference. Sen. Percy stressed the importance of improved medical aid for the senior citizen; inclusion of medicine costs in Medicare; the raising to $2400 the non-penalty earnings of the employed senior citizens and the nonpayment of social security taxes by the 65-year-old employed senior citizen.

The Town Board of Olive donated $300 for the transportation and recreation of its Senior Citizens Club, also reported that two shuffle board courts would be prepared and ready for use in the recreational area of the Lester Davis Park early this summer.

Pirigyi - Palmer Nuptials Announced Here

St. Colman's Church, East Kingston, was the setting for the wedding of Miss Elizabeth Rose Pirigyi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Pirigyi of East Kingston, and Brian L. Palmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Palmer of Dixfield, Me., on Sunday, Apr. 18.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. T.R. Mullins officiated at the double ring ceremony. Traditional wedding selections were provided. Arrangements of white gladioli decorated the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride selected an A-line gown of satin styled with an empire bodice, high collar and long bouffant sleeves. The collar, cuffs and front of the gown were accented with bands of Venise lace. Her halo-type headpiece of Venise lace matched her gown and held a chapel length veil which was bordered with lace. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, baby's breath and ivy.

Miss Sandra Pirigyi of East Kingston was maid of honor for her sister in an A-line gown of orchid dotted Swiss fashioned with an empire waistline trimmed in Venise lace. The bishop sleeves were edged in Venise lace and the high collar also featured Venise lace accents. She carried a colonial bouquet of chrysanthemums in rainbow colors.

MRS. BRIAN L. PALMER
(Lakeside Studio)

Bridesmaids were the Misses Linda Pirigyi and Julia Pirigyi, East Kingston, both sisters of the bride. Their gowns were identical in styling to that of the honor attendant's in pastel blue and pastel yellow, respectively. They carried similar bouquets.

Miss Sharon Conley was flower girl for her cousin in a pastel pink gown which was styled identically to those of the other attendants'. She carried a small colonial bouquet of rainbow colored chrysanthemums.

Cleon Fletcher of Farmington, Me. served as best man. Ushers were Barry Hill of Bridgeton, Me. and James Norton of Hyde Park. Scott Farwell of Dixfield, Me., cousin of the bridegroom, was ringbearer.

A reception for 200 guests was held at the Alpine, DeWitt Mills Road, Kingston.

For her wedding trip to Maine, the bride selected an off-white suit and a corsage of blue carnations.

The bride, a graduate of Plattsburgh State University, class of 1969, is a registered nurse. Her husband, an alumnus of Paul Smith's College, was recently discharged from the U.S. Army.

Mr. and Mrs. Palmer will reside at 243 Waldo Street, Rumford, Maine.

Speaker for Mother - Daughter Breakfast

The ninth mother-daughter communion breakfast given by the Rosary-Altar Society of St. Peter's Church in Rosendale will take place on Sunday, May 2. Mass will be celebrated at 9 a.m. with breakfast served afterwards at Williams Lake Hotel.

MR. AND MRS. VICTOR DeCICCO of 74 Second Avenue, Kingston, were guests of honor at a surprise party given by her family Sunday, April 18 at Tommy's Restaurant, High Street, Kingston, in observance at the couple's silver wedding anniversary. Married April 21, 1946 at Immaculate Conception Church, 469 Delaware Avenue, Kingston, by the late Rt. Rev. Joseph Sieczek. Mrs. DeCicco is the former Marcella Stopczynski, daughter of Mrs. Jennie Stopczynski of Fourth Avenue, Kingston, and the late Gus Stopczynski. Members of the immediate family attended the event, including the couple's honor attendants, Mrs. Theresa Houghtaling Beckert, cousin of the bride, and Vincent Stopczynski, brother of the bride. Mr. DeCicco is employed at IBM, Kingston. (Freeman photo by Haines).

Distaff Digest

Meeting Scheduled

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of Trinity Methodist Church, Wurts and Hunter Streets, Kingston, will meet Wednesday, Apr. 28 at 2 p.m. at the home of Mrs. A. Pardee, 177 Highland Avenue, this city.

Vanderlyn Council

The regular meeting of Vanderlyn Council No. 41, Daughters of America, will be held Tuesday, Apr. 27 at 7 p.m. at YMCA, Kingston.

After the meeting, a card party will take place at 8:30 p.m.

Regional Meeting

Instead of the regular meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of Tillson Volunteer Fire Company, a regional meeting has been scheduled for Tuesday, Apr. 27 at 8 p.m. in the Tillson firehall.

About 150 guests are expected from 13 various Ladies Auxiliaries of Volunteer Fire Companies for this semi-annual event. A festive and entertaining evening is planned. Refreshments will be served.

Speaker Named

On Tuesday, May 4, the New Paltz Study Club will hear Walter Averill, executive vice president of Hudson River Valley Association, in a lecture and slide program on the counties bordering the Hudson River Valley.

In these days of hurry to get somewhere, most people use the highways for fast travel, and miss many interesting places along the route. Mr. Averill plans to make trips more pleasureable, pointing out places and houses of interest on less travelled roads, including some of the "Shun Piking" routes.

The meeting will be held at 1:30 p.m. in the Joseph Deyo Room of New Paltz Savings Bank. Refreshments will be served. Mrs. David Huyler will serve as hostess and Mrs. Mary Alice Sherwig is in charge of refreshments.

Lecture Demonstration

Mrs. H. Henry Staley of Rhinebeck recently presented a lecture demonstration, "New Trends in Flower Arrangement," in Williamsport, Pa., for the annual spring luncheon of Duboistown Garden Club.

A capacity crowd at 21 tables watched while Mrs. Staley, author of the book, "New Trends in Tablesetting," presented 10 arrangements for the group, including eight against varied backgrounds and two freestanding.

Musical Society

A program entitled "The Bach Family" was presented under the chairmanship of Mrs. Alfred Sweet at the April meeting of the Musical Society of Kingston which took place at the home of Mrs. Bertrand Bishop, Richmond Park.

Performing were: Mrs. Robert Stedge, piano, "Fantasia in C Minor," J.S. Bach; Mrs. Roland Tonnesen, piano, "Rondo Expressivo E Minor," C.P.E. Bach; Mrs. William Rylance, piano, "Andante in E Flat", J.C. Bach; Mrs. G. Thomas Keehn, soprano, accompanied by Mrs. Rylance, "Illumine, Ye Heavenly Fires All Inflaming," J.S. Bach.

Hostesses for the social hour were the Mmes. John Schmidt and Ralph Harper.

The next meeting will be held Wednesday, May 12 at the home of Mrs. Rylance. The program theme, "A Tribute to Beethoven," will be under the chairmanship of Mrs. Donald MacIsaac.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT L. SMITH of River Road, Tillson, were honored at a surprise 25th wedding anniversary party at the Capri '400' Restaurant in Port Ewen on Saturday, April 17. The party was given by their children, daughters-in-law and son-in-law: Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne (Patricia) Craig, all of Rosendale. Mr. and Mrs. Smith also have two children at home, Eileen and Joseph, and two grandchildren, Melissa Anne Smith and Wayne Alan Craig II. Married Easter Sunday, April 21, 1946 at St. Joseph's Church, Bogota, N. J. by the Rev. Clarence Maguire, they recently renewed their vows at a Mass in St. Peter's Church in Rosendale. Mr. Smith is employed at IBM, Kingston. Friends and relatives from New York, New Jersey, Rhode Island and Ulster County attended the gala. (Fitzgerald photo).

Should Lovers Attend Party?

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
(© 1971 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I just received an invitation to a surprise 25th wedding anniversary party for a couple I'll call "The Johnsons," which is not their real name. We have been friends with the Johnsons for many years. Here is the problem. About five years ago, Mr. Jones and I started having an affair, and it's still going on, but nobody is wise. We really love each other, but we know it's hopeless. My question: Should we go to the party?

It would be difficult for me to sit there and pretend to be happy while Mr. Johnson pretends he loves his wife. And it would probably be embarrassing for Mr. Johnson, too.

On the other hand, there is no excuse I could give my husband for not going. My only out would be to get sick at the last minute. But if I did, my husband wouldn't go without me and I would feel like a rat making him miss a good party. I am not a very good liar. What should I do?

UNDECIDED

DEAR UNDECIDED: If you've been carrying on with Mr. Johnson for the last five years and nobody is wise, you are a better liar than you think you are. You'd be better off going to the party and pretending to be happy, than staying home and pretending to be sick.

DEAR ABBY: This is concerning the failure of a widow to return about a dozen irreplaceable books which her husband borrowed during his last illness. How does the owner get them back?

You suggested that she take some cookies to the widow, then suddenly bring up the subject of the unreturned books. I say, nuts to your cookies approach. It's not honest. Just take a suitcase over there and ask for the books. A year is 50 weeks too long to wait for their return. Anyone who values a book should require a dated receipt for it. Every library does.

Yrs. Sincerely
AN M.D. IN K.C.

DEAR M.D.: Thanks, Doc. Your prescription will no doubt affect a quicker cure than mine.

DEAR ABBY: I have a lovely home, beautifully carpeted thruout. Whenever I call a plumber to do inside work, a man shows up with muddy boots, smelling like a sewer. I think for the rates a plumber charges, he can show his customers a little more consideration.

I realize the plumber has a lot of dirty jobs to do, but is it necessary for him to come directly to a home for inside work after having been sweating for hours in a filthy sewer?

IRRITATED

DEAR IRRITATED: Almost all servicemen will remove their muddy boots at the door without being told. (And if you have to tell them to, they'll accommodate you.) But you can't expect a plumber who has come from a dirty "stoppage" job to shower, change his clothes, and get a shine before going to your home. All you can do is specify that yours is an inside job when you call a plumber.

DEAR ABBY: Our family is panning a trip to Ireland this summer. We have many relatives there. Our father, who is blind, would like to buy a toupee for the trip. Our relatives in Ireland would never know the difference because they haven't seen Dad since he was a young boy. The trouble is Mom. She doesn't want Dad to buy a toupee. All us kids are on Daddy's side. Whose side are you on?

THE KIDS

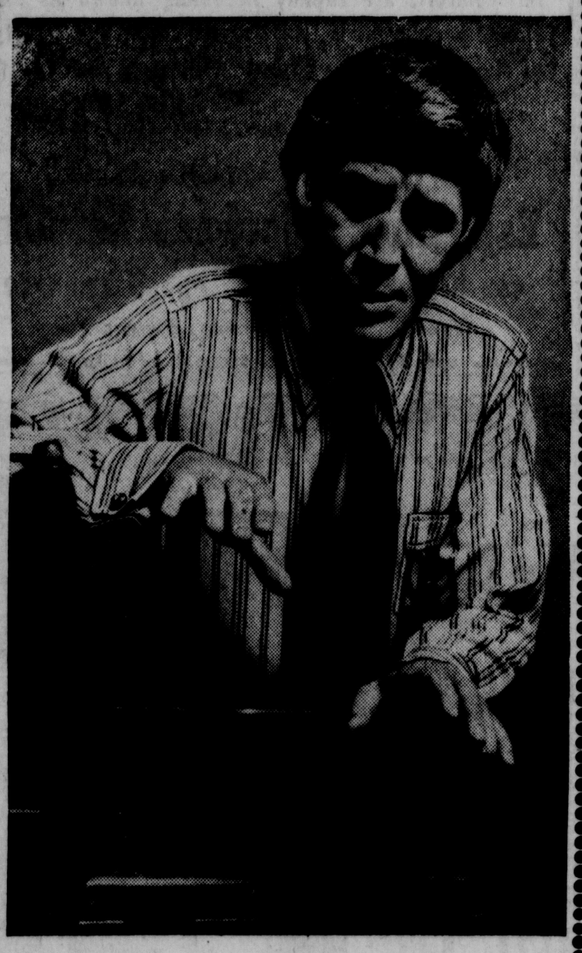

DEAR KIDS: I'm on Daddy's side, too!

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

For Abby's new booklet, "What Teen-agers Want to Know," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

GOLFERS will enjoy replaying every hole as they feast on Beef 'n' Slaw Waffle Sandwiches.

Waffle Sandwich Scores With Golfer

When you're confronted with a hungry crowd just back from the golf course, greet them with Beef 'n Slaw Waffle Sandwiches. They're hearty creations, sure to score hole-in-one reactions from amateurs and pros alike.

Waffles form the base of these open-face sandwiches; roast beef, cole slaw and tomatoes share the filling spotlight. Complete the post-golf lunch with other man-pleasing favorites: deviled eggs, potato chips and a cold beverage.

Frozen waffles put these sandwiches in the "better than par" category. Their convenience takes strokes off the preparation game. The waffle sections are piping hot and crisp after a brief heating in toaster or oven.

Beef 'n Saw Waffle Sandwiches are a tasty means of using leftover roast beef slices. The creamy cole slaw layer may be purchased from a delicatessan or made from a favorite recipe. For a final touch of flavor and color, top the sandwiches with tomato slices and sprigs of parsley.

Beef 'n' Slaw Waffle Sandwiches

Makes Six servings

One nine-oz. pkg. frozen waffles

One-half lb. cooked roast beef, thinly sliced.

One lb. creamy cole slaw

Sprigs of parsley

12 tomato slices, one-fourth inch thick

Prepare waffles in toaster or oven according to package directions. Heat beef in covered skillet with one tablespoon water; drain.

For each serving, top two waffle sections with hot beef. Spoon cole slaw over beef and top with tomato slices. Garnish with parsley.

Consumers Beware: No Magic Method to Lose Weight

ALBANY — Consumers should be wary of advertisements for reducing tablets and diet formulas which promise a magic method of achieving dramatic weight loss without significantly cutting down on caloric intake, warns Dr. Hollis S. Ingraham, State health commissioner.

"These ads are misleading because they imply that the product contains some ingredient which is highly conducive to weight loss, when in fact it does not," Dr. Ingraham said. Most non-prescription diet formulas are composed of various vitamins, iron and frequently a mild laxative — "none of which contribute to any real loss of weight," he said.

Such ads also create the impression that reducting will be relatively effortless through use of the product. The Commissioner cited one advertisement which states that "by taking a tablet before each meal you can eat as much or more than you do now and still lose 25 to 90 pounds in 60 days." Ads for another reducing formula announce that "anyone can lose seven pounds in the first two days, WITHOUT STARVATION DIETS."

"Unfortunately, many chronically over-weight persons are taken in by these and similar ads in the hope of finding some 'magic' method for losing weight while still eating as much as they please," Dr. Ingraham said. "Not only are such persons wasting money on these so-called 'miracle' products, they are also wasting time in which they could be following a realistic and sensible reducing plan prescribed by their physician."

The individual who purchases these "wonder-working" diet aids is often surprised to find that the information contained in the instruction booklet is quite different from the claims made in the ads, Dr. Ingraham said. Not only does the packet contain a specific diet or list of foods to eat, but the fine print also may include statemnts like "be patient and don't despair, your weight loss will be gradual."

"Since the reducing tablets do not contain any ingredient which stimulates weight loss, it is obvious that any weight reduction achieved through the program results from following the dietary instructions enclosed with the product — not from taking the pills," Dr. Ingraham said.

"Considerable confusion and disappointment could be avoided if consumers would face the fact that there is only one way to lose weight, and that is to take in fewer calories than your body uses each day," Dr. Ingraham said. This can only be achieved by eating less, exercising more, or preferably a combination of both, he noted.

For a free booklet presenting the facts about weight control, write to: FACTS ABOUT FIGURES, Public Inquiries Section, New York State Health Department, 84 Holland Avenue, Albany, New York 12208.

Maple Products

Did you know that New York is the nation's largest producer of maple products? asks Louise K. Breitung, Extension Home Economist.

Perhaps for this reason the New York State Department of Agriculture and Markets established some new guidelines for these products.

Top grade maple syrup is now called Grade Double A, or light amber. Grade A syrup is medium amber and Grade B, dark amber. The lighter the color of the syrup the more delicate the flavor. Clarity of the syrup is also important as properly filtered syrup will be clear.

This grading is an attempt to label the product in terms readily understood by the consumer. By this law it is also required that every consumer container of a maple product be labeled.

Once purchased, unopened containers of syrup should be stored in a cool dry place to retain color and flavor. Open containers of syrup require refrigeration.

If you're not a pancake fan, there are many other ways to enjoy maple syrup, maple cream and maple sugar.

Maple syrup and maple sugar can be substituted for granulated sugar in cooking and baking for an interesting flavor variation. As maple sugar has more sweetening power than granulated sugar, use only half as much.

Three fourths cup of syrup can be substituted for 1 cup of granulated sugar if other liquid in the recipe is reduced by 3 tablespoons.

These products can also be used to sweeten fruits and vegetables, top off a sundae or piece of spice cake, flavor a milk shake or egg nog, as well as for a spread on hot biscuits or toast.

For a real old fashioned treat, make "sugar on snow" by heating maple syrup to about 230 degrees F. and pouring it over a dish of snow.

Fill the centers of pared and cored apples with maple syrup and bake until the apples are tender. Baste with syrup during cooking.

Maple Nut Rolls — Roll out baking powder biscuit or yeast dough and spread it with melted butter and chopped nuts. Roll up the dough like a jelly roll and cut it in slices. Place the slices in a buttered pan containing a thin layer of maple syrup and chopped nuts. Let the yeast dough rise before baking.

Maple Pecan Pie

Yield: One pie

Temperature: 375 degrees F.

Pan: Nine-inch pan

Time: about 35 minutes.

One-quarter cup butter

Three eggs

One-half cup sugar

One cup pecan halves

One-half teaspoon salt

One unbaked, nine-inch pastry shell

One cup maple syrup

1. Melt, the butter; add the sugar, salt, maple syrup and eggs.

2. Beat the mixture with a rotary beater until it is well blended.

3. Add the pecans, breaking large halves in two.

4. Pour the filling into the unbaked pastry shell.

5. Bake the pie in a moderate oven, 375 degrees F. for about 35 minutes or until the filling is set when the pie is shaken gently.

6. Cool the pie before serving.

Two Are Promoted By IBM Lab Director

KINGSTON — Earl F. Wheeler, director of the IBM Kingston Laboratory, has announced the promotion of Clarence (Bud) K. Howe to Custom Systems manager in IBM's Systems Development Division.

Wheeler, also announced the promotion of Gerald N. West to Communications Systems Technology manager.

In his new position, Howe has responsibility for Custom Systems activities at IBM Systems Development Laboratories in Kingston, Poughkeepsie, Endicott and San Jose.

Howe joined IBM in 1953 at Poughkeepsie on the Air Force AIA bombing-navigation system project. He was assigned to early SAGE computer development as a technical engineer and transferred to Kingston in February, 1955. At Kingston he held a wide range of engineering posts and in May, 1965 he was appointed Plans and Controls Coordination manager. He was promoted to program manager, Kingston Custom Systems in December, 1967.

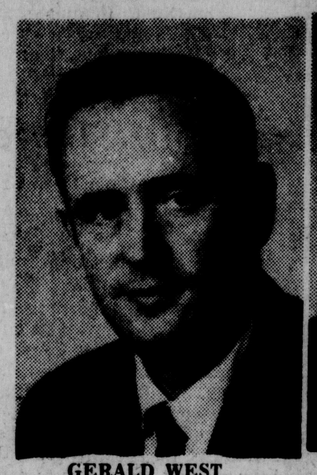

Howe attended Oklahoma State University and served three years in the U.S. Navy.

Howe, his wife Margaret and their eight children reside in Rhinebeck.

West joined IBM at Endicott in June, 1957 where he advanced through several engineering positions. In May, 1970 he became Advanced Systems Engineering manager, Intermediate Systems.

A member of Eta Kappa Nu and Tau Beta Phi honorary engineering societies, West is a graduate of Iowa State University, Ames, Iowa where he received his bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering. He earned a master's degree in electrical engineering from Syracuse University.

West, his wife Bette and three children presently reside in Binghamton.

Hill Is Appointed At Rotron Plant

WOODSTOCK — John O. Hill, formerly vice-president of marketing of Delavan Manufacturing Company in West Des Moines, Iowa, has been appointed vice president-marketing of Rotron Incorporated in Woodstock.

Charles J. Lawson, Rotron President, in making the announcement, noted that ". . . in this capacity, Mr. Hill will have responsibility for all phases of Rotron's sales and marketing activities."

Delavan Manufacturing Company is an international manufacturer of atomizing devices, as well as other hydraulic and electronic products, for military and commercial markets. Hill joined them as a sales engineer in 1958 and, in 1965, was elected an officer of the company. Hill was also a member of Delavan's Board of Directors. Rotron is an internationally known designer and manufacturer of precision air-moving devices for electronic and industrial applications.

Hill is a State University of Iowa graduate, with a Bachelor of Arts degree in commerce. During the past year, he was president of the Sales and Marketing Executives Association of Iowa. He was joined in Woodstock recently by his wife Sara and their five children: Cathryn, age 18; Michael, age 17; Laurie, age 15; Benjamin, age 12 and Sara, age 6.

Cardinal Farley's Final Graduating Class Has 39 Boys

By TIM SCHUSTER

RHINECLIFF

The last 39 graduates of Cardinal Farley Military Academy will receive their diplomas June 6 following the traditional colorful military review.

No one yet knows what will become of the Academy property. About 1,000 acres with more than a mile of Hudson river frontage is "up for sale," according to Commandant Col. R.J. Rastetter, U.S.A. ret.

He told The Freeman recently that there have been "several groups" touring the property, and Dutchess County Executive David C. Schoentag has expressed official interest in acquiring the land and buildings for some unspecified county use.

WILL GRADUATE FINAL CLASS

Since the identity of a buyer remains unknown, the colonel said that the Academy will hold on to most of its furniture, both dormitory and office.

If an educational institution should want to buy the property, that party might want the furnishings, while if a business should acquire the property, it might want just the buildings.

There will be some items sold to the highest bidders, however. Rastetter enumerated some of these as band instruments, numerous sleeping bags, and some sports equipment and furniture.

The eventual disposition of the property will have an impact on the Town of Rhinebeck. If a business or private party takes ownership, a valuable piece of taxable property will be added to the rolls.

The lower class high school boys who will have to leave Farley at the end of this school year have been assured by the Superintendent of Schools of the Archdiocese of New York that there will be space for them in other private schools under his jurisdiction.

The teaching staff is mostly Christian Brothers of Ireland, and they will be reassigned. Some locally employed office and other help will, of necessity, be let go.

The regular army major and sergeant assigned to Farley have already received their orders for Fort Bragg and Europe respectively.

Col. Rastetter, who retired from the regular army in 1964 and has been with Farley ever since, and Warrant Officer Eugene Dieter, U.S.A.F. ret., who spent 30 years as a band master with the Army Air Corps and Air Force, will both have to find other employment, or retire. Both are Rhinebeck residents.

The official reason given for the closing of Cardinal Farley about two months ago was "the continued pattern of decreasing enrollment which has beset the academy over the past five years."

Col. Rastetter told us that this is a nationwide pattern for all types of private boarding schools, and especially for military-oriented ones, according to the most recent report from the National Association of Secondary Schools.

That report cited figures showing that military schools enrollment dropped 10.6 per cent nationwide in just one year, from 1969-70 to the present.

There are presently only 123 boys registered at Farley; one year ago there were 186, and in 1966-67, the year of largest enrollment, there were 279.

This poses problems in amortization of the six-year-old modern buildings when one realizes that each boy pays about $3,000 per year.

The Academy is located on Morton Road in Rhinecliff, and occupies the former estate of Levi P. Morton, one-time Minister to France, Governor of New York State, and Vice-President of the United States from 1889-93.

The academy was established in 1942 and has facilities to handle 300 boarding students, a figure never reached. These include three modern dormitory buildings, a new administration and classroom building, and one of the finest gymnasiums in the area complete with large indoor swimming pool.

A testimonial dinner was held for Headmaster Brother H.P. Dillemuth Sunday, who has been at Farley for six years and as headmaster for three.

The program included a full dress parade of the cadets in his honor, followed by a reception and dinner in the fieldhouse with presentation addresses made by Col. Rastetter; the Rev. Brother J.B. Dempsey, Sub-Superior of the academy; Ernest Squilla, president of the Parents' Auxiliary; and Denis Zambetti, president of the senior class.

Meanwhile, life for the cadet goes on much the same as usual. The annual inspection by a full colonel and two captains Tuesday was on everyone's mind the weekend before.

"We have had an honor rating the past four years," pointed out Rastetter proudly. He obviously intended to add to that record.

The Latin motto for Cardinal Farley is "Viriliter Age," which means "to act manfully."

In the future, boys will have to learn to be men somewhere else

Kingston's Heritage at Expo

Historic Kingston will be the subject of a display and program at the Wednesday night, April 28, edition of the Kingston Lions Club Exposition and Home Show. Featured will be a large collection of oldtime pictures of early downtown Kingston and the stockade area, an extensive collection of tools used by Kingston's earliest settlers and a program of folk music performed by a 73-year-old Kingstonian. Gathering recently to prepare final plans for the history-laden exhibit were (L), Elmer Carney, John Matthews, Harry Siemsen, Clifford Bunting and Bob Matthews. Carney displays his collection of oldtime relics; both John and Bob Matthews have put together a collection of photos and Siemsen is a nationally known folk singer who has appeared throughout this area. Bunting is the Lions Club chairman of the exhibit. (Freeman photo by Haines)

Four at Chamber Meeting

WASHINGTON, D.C. Four area residents are currently in Washington attending the 59th annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

Representing the community from the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, are: Clifford A. Henze, president; David H. Rylance, vice president; Richard B. Mathews, member of the board; and Executive Vice President Len Cane.

Included on the conference agenda are work sessions concerning cosumerism, welfare, revenue sharing, environment, foreign trade and governmental reorganization. Among the speakers to be heard are President Richard Nixon; George Romney, secretary of Housing and Urban Development; U.S. Chamber President F. Ritter Shumway; and, at a New York Congressional dinner, Senator James L. Buckley. Senator Buckley will speak to N.Y.S. Chamber representatives and their congressional guests.

The three-day meeting concludes Tuesday night with a concert featuring Arthur Fiedler and the Boston Pops Orchestra.

Day Care Center In Dutchess Sets Dinner

RED HOOK

Further plans for the first annual dinner of the Northern Dutchess Day Care Center Inc. on Thursday, April 29, were announced today by Mrs. Frank Mancari, chairman.

The event will begin with a social hour at 6 p.m. in Christ Church parish hall, 46 S. Broadway, and include a buffet supper and tour of the center located in renovated facilities in the hall.

More than 130 members of the center have been invited.

Members of the food committee supplying the buffet include Mrs. Harry Bird, Mrs. Oakleigh Cookingham, Mrs. Louis Dillman, Mrs. Thomas Frost, Mrs. Arthur Haddad, Mrs. Lawrence Hagen, Mrs. Maynard Ham, Mrs. Thomas Hartshorn, Mrs. David Lax, Mrs. John Losee, Mrs. Mancari, Mrs. Edward McNally, Mrs. Kenneth Merrit, Mrs. Walter Schreiber, Mrs. Robert Schultz, Mrs. John Smithers, Mrs. Carl Stolman, Mrs. Edward Strieder, and Mrs. Edward Yoli.

Reports during a brief business meeting will be given by Mrs. Smithers, the center president, and Miss Trudy Daddio, director of the center.

More Spearing

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W. Va., said today he would propose the government spend an additional $12 million for family planning and $5 million for population research.

In a letter to Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., chairman of the health, education and welfare appropriations subcommittee, Byrd said the money must be made available during 1971 to allow the government programs "to serve the 5 million women who now want but cannot afford family planning services."

Ulster Splits Doubleheader With Rockland

SPRING VALLEY — If they counted only earned runs in baseball, the Ulster County Community College Senators would have scored a double victory against Rockland County Community here Saturday.

However, it doesn't quite work that way, so Coach Al DiBernardo's tossers settled for an even split in two of the best games they have played this season.

The Mid-Hudson Conference defending champions beat Ray Zappone, 2-1, with two unearned runs in the opener, then UCCC bounced to take the equalizer, 3-2 behind Larry Mack and Tom Gallo. None of the Rockland runs was earned. Zappone, who yielded six hits and struck out seven, stretched his consecutive innings to 31 without allowing an earned run. But two crucial errors in the fifth inning accounted for both Rockland runs and Ray's first defeat of the season.

Only one run was earned in second game in which Coach DiBernardo started freshman Larry Mack, who went until the fifth when Gallo came on to snuff out a rally and get credited with a save.

The split left Ulster's overall record at 8 wins and 3 losses, with a 5-1 rating in the Mid-Hudson Conference. The Senators travel to Concordia today, then play Sullivan County Wednesday at New Paltz.

"Our infield had fielding lapses that hurt us in both games," said DiBernardo. "On the basis of earned runs we should have taken both games 1-0, but it doesn't work out that way. Rockland is a solid club and they're defending their Mid-Hudson title with six regulars back from the 1970 season."

Gary Boyajian, who beat UCCC on six hits in the opener, is a former River Edge, N.J. High School ace who was drafted by the Baltimore Orioles. He fanned five and walked one.

Zappone lost it in the fifth when Tom Madar singled with one out. Eric Michelsen hit a double play ball to second baseman John Durcan who booted it. Ramos flied out for the second out. A second infield error put Lappetito on first and Mike Castellano singled to right for two runs.

Ulster averted a shutout in the second when Gallo (5 for 7 for the day) singled, stole second and scored on Bob Ostrander's single.

With the score tied 1-1 a the end of two innings, Ulster scored its winning runs in the third. Mack and Lyons singled and both advanced a base when a pickoff attempt got past the first baseman. Watzka then singled both home.

Gallo relieved Mack with the bases loaded and one out in the fifth. He forced in a run with a walk but got the next two batters on a popup and strikeout, then pitched shutout ball the last two innings.

Joe Bostic's '70' New UCCC Mark

DELHI — Joe Bostic finished with three straight birdies for an all-time Ulster Community College golf record of 70 at The College Golf Club here Saturday, but the host Delhi Tech swingers won the team match, 322 to 334.

Bostic's score shaved a stroke off the former UCCC standard of 72 set by Dave Blakely against Dutchess County Community College two years ago.

On the front nine, the UCCC ace bagged eight pars and a birdie-2 to make the turn in one-under-par 35. He parred the first three holes on the back side, then ran into bogey-5's on the par-4 13th and 14th holes.

Bostic recovered for a par-4 on the 15th, then finished 3-2-4 for a 2-under-par 35-35-70 over the par 36-36-72, 6170-yard layout. All the components of his game were clicking as he hit 16 greens and needed only 32 putts for the distance.

Bob Terpening was runnerup with 80 for Ulster, with Dan Reinhard carding 95 and Rich Swithers 91.

Rivert Sgambati, Delhi's No. 1 player led his squad with 38-36-74 and got steady support from his teammates, as Andrew Leffler posted 82, Tom Harmon 84 and Doug Parker 82.

Ulster hosts Sullivan and Nassau in a triangular meet Tuesday at Wiltwyck.

The score:

HEMMED-IN FEELING — No. 1 Oscar Robertson of Milwaukee Bucks stops short of Baltimore Bullet No. 3 Fred Carter as he moves in for basket in first quarter. No. 10 Bullet Earl Monroe makes move for Robertson and the ball. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Bucks Have Two-Game Edge

BALTIMORE (UPI) — The Milwaukee Bucks, combining their own overwhelming power along with an emotional letdown suffered by Baltimore, appeared in excellent shape today to capture the National Basketball Association championship in only their third year of existence.

Milwaukee routed the Bullets, 102-83, in a nationally televised game at Baltimore Sunday to take a 2-0 lead in their best-of-seven final series. The teams move back to Milwaukee for the third game Wednesday and it wouldn't be too much of a surprise if the Bucks win it all in the fourth game at Baltimore next Friday.

But, before the Bucks get too carried away with themselves, it should be remembered that the Bullets have been in a hole before. They lost the opening game of their quarter-final series against Philadelphia and the first two against New York in the semi-finals before rallying to win both sets.

However, Coach Gene Shue admits that his team may be playing one series too many in quest of the championship.

"First, I want to say that the Bucks have a terrific team," he said. "But our players are really not involved in this series. We have not yet recovered from the emotional New York series. It was a drain, like getting into the World Series. Our team is let out."

Along with their physical and mental handicaps, the Bullets also are having their expected difficulties in handling Lew Alcindor and Oscar Robertson. Alcindor scored 27 points and had 24 rebounds Sunday and Robertson, in addition to scoring 22 points, held Bullet ace Earl Monroe to 11.

"Oscar did a fantastic job on defense," said Milwaukee Coach Larry Costello, who credited a fine team defense for the big victory. "Monroe had to work for his points and he didn't get many baskets."

As for Alcindor, Costello said they were going the ball into him much better in the third quarter, when the 7-2 center collected 10 of his points.

"Let's face it, (Wes) Unseld can't stop him one-on-one," Costello said. "When we get the ball into the big man, there's nothing they can do."

Jack Marin, who scored 22 points for Baltimore, said that the presence of Alcindor upsets a team's entire game.

"There is only one way we can beat them, by making jump shots," Marin said. "Milwaukee forces you into a trap and Alcindor takes away the middle. If I go right, the big guy slides with me and he waits until I get to the rim. Then my man trails me a little bit so that I can't pull up with the jump shot. That's the trap. We wind up playing an offense-oriented game and it's not easy against him (Alcindor).

"I don't mean to say that Alcindor is all that awesome, but he doesn't let you shoot your shot. It's a physical law that a hand four feet over your head is going to make you shoot a little different."

Baltimore led only once in the game, taking a 24-22 advantage on a Fred Carter jump shot with 1:10 left in the first quarter. Robertson hit three quick baskets early in the second period, but the Bullets still were in contention at halftime, trailing 49-45.

Milwaukee broke open the game in the third period, outscoring the Bullets, 30-16, as Baltimore could hit on only seven of 22 floor shots.

Although Alcindor was able to say after the game, "I'm pretty confident we should win," Costello wasn't taking anything for granted. However, he did comment, "I'm just glad we're not two down."

Hammer Thrower Tops Liquori

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The biggest upset at the 77th annual Penn Relays this past weekend was in the selection of the most valuable performer at the two-day track and field meet.

When it was announced that Al Schoterman of Kent State was the MVP, one veteran track writer exclaimed: "Al Schoterman! My stopwatch! What happened to Marty Liquori?"

Schoterman's performance was excellent. He threw the hammer 219 feet, 4 inches for a new NCAA and meet record. But that was it. He watched the rest of the meet.

What apparently bothered most writers at the meet was that they had voted Liquori the outstanding performer 9-1. Then, meet officials apparently took it upon themselves to change the decision.

Actually, the name of the game at the Penn Relays is RELAYS. It's sort of like a three-ring circus with the main attraction in the center ring. The relay races are in the center ring. Everything else is a side show.

Liquori, the Villanova senior, anchored three winning relay teams — the distance medley, two and four miles. In the past three years he has been on eight winning teams at the annual Penn show.

The award is insignificant in the overall scheme of the relays, but the consensus is to do away with the designation if creating a record in a one-shot field event is to overshadow the theme of the meet — relay.

While Villanova won three relays, it was a disappointing two days for the cats from Philadelphia's Main Line. Their winning streak ended at 17, when an unheraled South Carolina quartet beat them to the tape in the spring medley.

The defeat was the first in a major race for Villanova at the Penn Relays since a loss to Rice in the 1967 mile, last event on that program. Villanova won five titles in each of the next three years, and two this past weekend, before the sprint medley.

Villanova came back to take the two-mile race as Liquori taught Manhattan freshman Joe Savage a lesson in tactics. The Villanovan had run a 4:07.9 on the anchor of a four-mile relay, while Savage was fresh. So, when they reached the stretch of the two-mile shoulder-to-shoulder, Liquori weaved a little, throwing the Manhattan runner off stride. It's legal as long as you don't leave your lane or make contact.

Adelphi was the only other team to win more than one event, capturing the 880 and mile relays. Villanova suffered its second defeat in the mile, finishing fourth behind Adelphi's NCAA indoor champions. Adelphi won the 880 in 1:24.3 and the mile in 3:07.9.

Rodriguez-Oliver Win; Mosley Takes Trenton 200

By United Press International

It was old stuff for Pedro Rodriguez but a totally new experience for Mark Mosley.

Rodriguez, the veteran driving star from Mexico, teamed with Britain's Jackie Oliver Sunday to win the sixth Monza 1,000-kilometer auto race in a five-litre Gulf Porsche 917K. It was the second sports car victory this season for the Rodriguez-Oliver team, which also won the 24 hours of Daytona.

Mosley, a 26-year-old driver from Brownsburg, Ind., captured his first championship car victory when he piloted his AJ. Watson turbo-charged Ford Eagle to victory in the Trenton 200. He took the lead on the 36th lap and held it the rest of the way.

In other major races Sunday, Sweden's Reine Wisell won the 31st Grand Prix de Pau Formula 2 race in record time. Frank Matich of Australia captured the $35,000 L&M Grand Prix for Formula A cars and Richard Petty took first place in the Virginia 500 Grand National stock car race.

The victory by Rodriguez and Oliver gave Porsche nine points and its fourth victory in five enduro races this season. It was the second straight Monza for Rodriguez, who won last year teamed with Finland's Leo Kinnunen.

The two drivers covered the 174 laps in four hours, 14:32.6 minutes, averaging 146.2 miles per hour.

Jo Siffert of Switzerland and Derek Bell of Britain took second, also in a Porsche 917K and third place went to Andrea de Adamich of Italy and Henri Pescarolo of France in an Alfa Romeo 33-3.

Mosley took the lead when Mario Andretti dropped out with engine problems and the young driver escaped a near tragedy 17 laps from the finish when his car spun on a slick spot and collided with another car. He limped into the pits but never lost his lead as his problems were quickly rectified.

The victory was worth $13,850 to Mosley and marked the first triumph for chief mechanic Watson since 1965.

Matich earned $7,700 for piloting his McLaren Repco to victory at Riverside, Calif. He was runnerup to Ron Grable of Mountain View, Calif., and Sam Posey of Sharon, Conn., in each of the 100-mile heats. Jim Dittemore of Palos Verdes Estates, Calif., was second.

Wisell, driving a Lotus 69, covered 120 miles at an average of 77.5 mph to set the speed record in the Grand Prix de Pau.

Petty, the veteran from Randleman, N. C., also set a track record in winning the Virginia 500. He averaged 77.815 mph to break the mark set seven years ago by Freddie Lorenzen.

Petty, driving a Plymouth, finished just ahead of David Pearson of Spartanburg, S.C., in a Ford while Bobby Isaac of Catawba, N.C., in a Dodge, took third. Petty won $6,225 as he recorded his eighth victory in 14 starts on the NASCAR circuit this season.

List Is Contender For Kentucky Derby

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI)— List, a stretch-running colt owned by Mrs. Joe W. Brown, emerged today as one of the stronger contenders for Saturday's Kentucky Derby but it was no surprise to trainer Alcee Richard.

"I've got him where I want him and he couldn't have come out of the race any better," the trainer said of List who came from last place to be second last Saturday to Calumet Farm's Bold and Able in the $10,000 Stepping Stone at Churchhill Down's. However, Calumet's Eastern Fleet, the stable's more highly regarded Derby horse, finished a poor sixth in the seven furlong sprint.

Richard still thinks Eastern Fleet is a dangerous rival because, "every horse will throw you a bad race once in a while." And he also considers Jim French and the entry of Impetuous and Twist the Axe, who finished one-two in the Blue Grass Stakes, as major threats.

Nor does he discount Bold and Able, pointing out, "He's a speed horse and speed is always dangerous."

But Richard considers List a strong contender, also, and promised an "even stronger run in the Derby," now that List has had a race under his belt.

Jockey Jim Nichols, who rides List, also was high on the colt.

"You have to be patient with him, let him settle down and we'll have more time to do that in the Kentucky Derby," Nichols said. "He'll be full of run in the stretch and that's where you win Derbies," the lanky jockey added.

A big field was in prospect for the 97th running of the Kentucky Derby with 23 horses, including two maidens and a colt from South America, still considered possible starters.

And a big field could make things tough for List, Richard agreed.

"The bigger it is, the worse for me," he said. "So you have to wish for luck and hope your horse doesn't get into any trouble. That's all he had in the Louisiana Derby. He started on the outside and had to drop back on the rail. Then he got blocked at the three-eighths pole and again at the quarter pole but he still got up to be second, only beaten half a length," Richard said.

"But if you are going to go around all those horses you are not going to get anything either, so you have to hope you can get through," he added.

Chicago 'Hawks' Rangers

By United Press International

Stanley Cup play traditionally involves close-checking and low scoring games but tradition has been the first thing to go in the 1971 playoffs.

First the defending champion Boston Bruins, who virtually rewrote National Hockey League scoring records this season, were eliminated by the Montreal Canadiens. Then the St. Louis Blues, Stanley Cup finalists in each of their three years in the league, were upended by the Minnesota North Stars.

Now defense, usually the foundation of a Stanley Cup series, has gone out the window.

That was evident again Sunday as the Chicago Black Hawks routed the New York Rangers, the best defensive team in the NHL this season, 7-1, and the North Stars ripped the Canadiens, one of the closest checking teams in hockey, 5-2. Both best-of-seven series now are tied at two games apiece.

Bobby Hull, held in check by the Rangers through the first three games, scored his first points of the series with a pair of assists within a two-minute span of the second period to ignite the rout of the Rangers. Chicago led 1-0 on Jim Pappin's first period goal when Hull, the second leading scorer in NHL history, set up a goal by Bill White at 5:45 of the second period and another by Danny O'Shea at 7:28. Hull also assisted on the final goal of the games by Jerry Korab.

"I'm concerned with my inability to score," said Hul, "but still very happy. Every goal scorer who doesn't get goals worries about it. I don't like to go so long without scoring but I know if I keep working, they'll come. But I can't let myself worry about it too much because the goals will come. I just hope it's soon because it's for a good cause."

The Hawks, stunned by New York 4-1 Thursday night, were in command al the way as they tied the series, which resumes Tuesday night in Chicago. "I wasn't surprised," said Chicago Coach Billy Reay, who was celebrating his 29th wedding anniversary. "My players have always come through in key situations. They knew they had to win today and they did."

Reay said he was glad "the club was able to snap back. Now it's a three-game series and two of those games are in Chicago."

That's the same sentiment echoed by Minnesota Coach Jackie Gordon, whose North Stars stunned Montreal in a series in which all four games have been lopsided victories.

Montreal won the first and third games 7-2 and 6-3 while the North Stars took the second and fourth 6-3 and 5-2.

"This has got to be the biggest game for us," said Gordon. "It's all even now. It's a best-of-three series."

Murray Oliver had a pair of goals and Jean Paul Parise put in the go-ahead score in the third period as the North Stars, the only club ever to beat an established team in Stanley Cup play, evened the series. The fifth game will be played in Montreal Tuesday night.

"I said this was going to be a tough series and that's exactly what it's turned out to be," said Montreal Coach Al MacNeil. "The North Stars played well, they're a good club, but we've got to play better."

Defense from both clubs has left much to be desired as the 34 goals scored in the series are the most ever scored in four games of a Stanley Cup series.

Tournament of Champions

It Was Nicklaus All by Himself

RANCHO LA COSTA, Calif. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus' mind still was on his defeat at the Masters when he teed off in the final round of the MONY Tournament of Champions Sunday.

"I wasn't pleased with the way I've been finishing lately," Nicklaus said. "I think I've been paying too much attention to the scoreboard and not enough attention to myself.

"So I told my caddy, 'Let's do something different. Don't tell me what anybody else is doing. I just want to go out and play my game and not worry about what anyone else is doing.'"

He didn't have to worry, shooting a final round 70 for 279 and a huge, eight-stroke victory in this event that brings together tour champions from the last 12 months. It was the biggest winning margin in more than two years.

Nicklaus took a double bogey that really didn't mean anything at all. He was all alone as he had been all day. His quick burst out of the gate, and the troubles encountered by everyone else, left no element of suspense, no drama.

It simply was Nicklaus all alone. He finished at 279, nine under par. It was eight strokes back to a group of three tied at 287—South African Gary Player, Australian Bruce Devlin and Dave Stockton.

With Nicklaus, they were the only players to break par on the 7,114-yard, par 72 layout that features deep, clinging rough and pipeline fairways.

Player and Stockton had 72s and Devlin took a 73.

Gene Littler, 71, was alone at 288, and Bobby Nicholas had a 71 for 289. Charles Coody, who won the Masters and destroyed Nicklaus' hopes of a professional grand slam this year, took a 75 for 290. Arnold Palmer had a 73-295 and U.S. Open champion Tony Jacklin of England was one of 11 who failed to break 300. He had a 74 for 301.

It was Nicklaus' 32nd victory on the American tour, along with two British Open titles, two national team titles and four World Series of Golf triumphs.

The $33,000 first place check pushed his earnings to over $102,000 in only seven starts and him just behind Palmer on the money-winning list.

Lourdes Tops Paltz

NEW PALTZ

New Paltz High out hit Our Lady of Lourdes High of Poughkeepsie, 6-4, but the Dutchess nine capitalized on errors to defeat the Huguenots, 3-2, in a non-league baseball game here Saturday.

Lourdes took a 2-0 lead in the first inning when third baseman Steve Volk and relief pitcher Vinnie O'Herron scored on New Paltz's errors. Another miscue, this time by the catcher, sent Lourdes ahead 3-0 in the third inning.

O'Herron held the Huguenots scoreless until the fourth inning when Mike Fairweather singled George Clark home.

New Paltz added another run in the fifth on Paul Rode's triple and a fielder's error, but relief pitcher Rich Golletta turned back the losers in the sixth and seventh innings.

Despite the four-hitter, Rick McCord took the loss, the fourth for New Paltz against three wins.

Hawks Get Split in Baseball

NEW YORK CITY

Having broken the shackles of the past, the New Paltz State University baseball Hawks are developing the winning habit these days.

Coach Pete Kramer's squad ended a long losing streak by shading Oswego State, 10-9, in a SUNYAC game Friday. Saturday, they visited the metropolis to split a doubleheader with New York Maritime, winning the nightcap, 4-3 after dropping the opener, 4-1.

Tom Williams, who slammed a solo homer in the fourth inning, knocked in the winning run for the Hawks in the top of the ninth. There was a man on third, two outs and Williams had two strikes on him when he looped a single over second base.

Mike Kucharski, who relieved starter Tom Lind after the fifth inning with Maritime ahead, 3-1, was tagged with the loss.

Sandy Strauss pitched the ninth for New Paltz and blanked Maritime for his second straight save. Oscar Kvelland, the starter, went eight innings, allowed 11 hits, struck out eight and walked two to get credit for the win.

Bob Moriarity, Maritime's third baseman, broke a 1-1 tie with a three-run homer in the bottom of the sixth to nail down Maritime's win in the first game.

Walter Tufari picked up the victory in a battle of five-hitters with New Paltz's freshman hurler, Dean Briggs.

New Paltz's second victory in two days put the Hawks record at 2-3 on the season, while Maritime evened its record at 4-4.

Directors Elected

NEW YORK (UPI)—John J. Finley Jr., president of Eagle Downs, and Patrick J. Rooney, president of Continental Thoroughbred Racing Assn., were elected Friday to the Thoroughbred Racing Association's board of directors.

Rooney, 32, is the son of Art Rooney, noted horseman and owner of the Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football League.

Allen's Complete Sweep

SAUGERTIES

The Raiders completed a sweep of Saugerties Athletic Association Basketball League honors Saturday, by defeating a short-handed but game Allen Bus Line quintet, 90-82. The playoff finals had been delated for several games.

Allen's bolted to a 24-17 quarter lead but Raiders rallied to tie it 44-44 at the half. Allen's inched ahead 65-64 a the three-quarter mark but the Raiders' 26-point fourth quarter explosion settle the issue.

The victory was a repeater for Raiders, who had won the regular season title with a last-night win over Allen's.

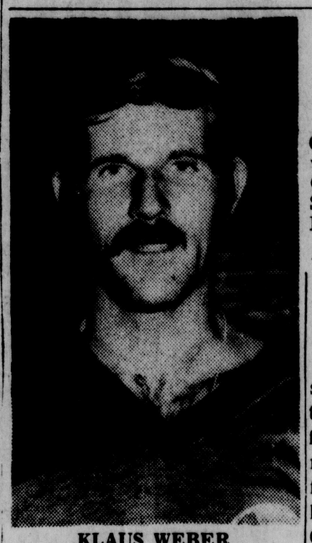

Frank Allen of the Bus Line took game honors with 30 points, hitting 52 per cent (14 for 27) from the field. Gary Greiner hit 83 per cent (10 for 12) to pace the winners with 24 points. Ron Thomas added 19 and Rich Koegel 18 for the Raiders. Ed Burns contributed 16 points for Allen's.

Both teams were hot from the field, with Allen's outshooting Raiders, 53 per cent to 48 per cent, but the champions held a big edge in the vital rebounding department, 41 to 29.

Foster Keeps Title

TAMPA, Fla. — Bob Foster successfully defended his light heavyweight boxing title with an easy 15-round decision over challenger Ray Anderson Saturday night.

Foster plodded after his elusive target for 15 rounds and caught him often enough to pile up an unanimous decision in the nationally televised bout at Curtis Hixon Hall.

Charlies Still on Fire

By United Press International

The Charleston Charlies are still at it. They insist on setting the International League on fire, and no one is making much of an effort to put out the flames, although Syracuse still has a 2 1-2 game lead over the Charlies.

The Charlies, with five victories in their last six games, are winning the hearts of the Charleston fans who are glad to have the team which moved from Columbus, Ohio.

Gene Garber, now 2-0, scattered 10 Louisville hits as the Charlies beat the Colonels, 7-2 Sunday. Mel Civil cracked a double and three singles, John Jeter smashed a homer, double and single, and Rennie Stennett added a homer for the Charlies.

League-leading Syracuse took a doubleheader from Tidewater, 4-2 and 4-3. Barry Moore and Gary Jones got the wins for Syracuse.

Dan McGinn fired a three-hitter as Winnipeg pounded out 16 hits in defeating Toledo, 12-3, in the second game of a doubleheader. Toledo won the opener, 4-3.

A doubleheader between Richmond and Rochester was rained out.

The idea behind the Volkswagen Squareback Sedan.

Twenty-three years ago, we had an idea for a small economy car.
And it came out looking like a bug.
Twenty years ago, we had an idea for a giant station wagon.
And it came out looking like a box.
Then we had an idea for a sedan that combined all the economy of our bug with a lot of the capacity of our box.
So you'd expect it to come out looking half bug, half box. Right?
Wrong.
Our Squareback Sedan looks like a small station wagon.
But by squaring off its back and adding a trunk in front, our little sedan can give you over twice as much carrying space as the biggest domestic sedan.
Years ago, we learned the important thing isn't the way a car looks on the outside, but how it works on the inside.
And so it's just as true today as it was then: You can't judge a Volkswagen by its cover.

Forgotten Man Jim Kaat Two-Hits New York Nine

By United Press International

Jim Kaat — one of two remaining original Minnesota Twins. Jim Kaat — a 25-game winner in 1966 with a major league record of 158-131. Jim Kaat —the Golden Glove-winning southpaw who completed only four of 34 starts last year. Jim Kaat—at the age of 31, the forgotten man of the Twins' pitching staff.

Suddenly Kaat is once again in the limelight after recording his second shutout of the season Sunday with a two-hit white-washing of the New York Yankees, the Twins winning, 8-0.

Baseball experts, in the off season, talked about the magnificence of Jim Perry, the shining future of Bert Blyleven, the relief work of Ron Perranoski and the hopeful comebacks of Dave Boswell and Luis Tiant.

If Kaat was mentioned at all, it was only in a negative manner. Despite a 14-10 record last season, his slim total of four complete games stuck out like a sore thumb. He had lost his zip and was now being referred to as a "junkie" who could no longer be counted on as an effective starter.

But Kaat has apparently decided to prove the experts wrong. After an ineffective relief stint on opening day, the veteran has started four games, completed two, both shutouts, and has a 2-0 record with a 2.89 E.R.A. He shut out the White Sox two weeks ago on 11 hits.

Kaat allowed only a third-inning single to Horace Clarke and an eighth-infield hit by pinch-hitter Ron Woods as Tony Oliva supplied the Twins' offensive punch with a pair of homers and a single, driving in three runs.

In other American League games, Detroit bombed Oakland, 10-2, Washington edged Milwaukee, 3-2, Baltimore defeated California, 7-1, Boston beat Chicago, 5-4, and Kansas City took a 6-4 victory over Cleveland.

Dick McAuliffe lead the Tiger assault on Oakland as he drove in five runs with a homer and double while Mickey Lolich and Fred Scherman combined on a three-hitter. Bill Freehan and Willie Horton added Detroit roundtrilxrs.

Carl Yastrzemski hit a two-run homer and walked to force in the winning run in the eighth inning to give the Red Sox the win over Chicago. Don Eddy, the fifth of six White Sox hurlers, walked Yastrzemski to break a 4-4 tie after a walk to Phil Gagliano and singles by Luis Aparicio and Reggie Smith had loaded the bases.

Cubs Defeat Mets

CHICAGO (AP) —Leo Durocher might be from the old school of baseball but he's giving in to the age of the computer.

Following a second straight victory over the New York Mets Sunday by a 9-3 count, the manager of the Chicago Cubs announced he will continue with a set lineup.

'I was up until 4 o'clock this morning studying these sheets and there's no getting away from it," said Leo. "The figures show we won 19 of 30 in one stretch with this line-up last year. If the computer says these are my best players, then they have to be the best."

The computer ranks all the players through an average performance index in every situation based on score, outs, inning and men on base.

"The results are conclusive," said Durocher. "But you have to take in a long period of time. Results of an entire season are more conclusive than a month and a month tells you more than a week.

"I tried to make some changes hoping to change our luck but it just didn't work out. I had to go back to last year and there it is," said Durocher, displaying 40 pages of computer data.

Computer or no computer, the New York Mets had a lot to do with the Cubs winning two in the three game series after the Mets took the opener in 12 innings Friday.

The Cubs, who had scored only 34 runs in their first 15 games, collected 22 against the Mets who committed seven errors in the series, including four Sunday.

The Cubs also saw every pitcher on the Met roster except ace Tom Seaver and treated them rudely. Even Nolan Ryan, who was the winner in relief Friday, got whacked in relief Sunday.

Pitcher Ferguson Jenkins greeted Ryan with a two-run single to cap a five-run double in the sixth when one of the Mets' errors helped matters for Chicago.

In other National League action yesterday, Montreal dropped Houston, 2-1, behind a three-hit pitching performance by Bill Stoneman. The win completed a sweep of the Astros by the Expos at Houston. The Canadiens took three games in a row.

Juan Marichal, after winning his first three games of the season, dropped his second straight yesterday as the Pirates topped the Giants, 6-2. Vic Davalillo drove in three runs for the winners while Al Oliver hit a two-run double. Willie McCovey crashed his second homer of the season for San Francisco.

Joe Torre kept his 19-game hitting streak alive as he hit a two-out, bases loaded single in the ninth inning to give the Cardinals a 5-4 win over Philadelphia.

Hank Aaron poled home run Number 59% in the first game of a double header between the Braves and San Diego. Atlanta was defeated, 3-2. The Braves won the second game, 4-3, in 10 innings as Padres' shortstop Enzo Hernandez booted Aaron's pitch hit grounder with the bases loaded.

The Dodgers and Cincinnati split a doubleheader. The Dodgers won the opener, 4-2. The Reds took the second, 2-0.

Traded by Falcons

ATLANTA (UPI)—Defensive tackle Bill Sabatine, seeking to come back after a one-year retirement, was traded Friday by the Atlanta Falcons of the National Football Conference to the San Diego Chargers of the American Conference for an undisclosed draft choice.

Sabatino, 6-foot-3, 245-pounds from Colorado, was a part-time player for the Falcons in 1969, but retired at the end of that season.

THREATENS TO JUMP — Paul J. Waldmyer, 26, of Boston's Roslindale section sits on the edge of the Mystic River Bridge some 100 feet above the Mystic River Saturday. For more than an hour Boston Police Capt. Albert Flattery talked to Waldmyer and finally talked him back onto the bridge where other police were able to seize him. Waldmyer who said he was beset by "personal problems" had been threatening to jump off the span. He was taken to Mass. General Hospital for treatment. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Area Airline Operation Now Back to 70 Per Cent

UTICA, N.Y. (UPI)—Mohawk Airlines completed the second phase of a three-step return to service Sunday, and is now up to 70 per cent of its post-strike operations.

Mohawk, struck by its pilots in a labor dispute Nov. 12, resumed partial service earlier this month. As of Sunday, the number of flights was expanded and service was begun to a half dozen cities in New York and New England.

The resumption of service during the weekend added 119 daily flights to Mohawk's schedule. The Utica-based firm will complete its return to the airways May 9.

The six cities joined 21 other airports in Mohawk's post-strike operation. The original 21 saw service resumed April 14, shortly after the pilots' dispute was submitted to binding arbitration.

As of Sunday, flights resumed to Binghamton and Ithaca, N.Y.; Manchester, Lebanon and Keene N.H.; and Worcester, Mass.

Also begun Sunday was service on new non-stop routes between Buffalo and Washington and Hartford and Cleveland, and more flights were into effect at Albany, Utica, Syracuse, Buffalo, White Plains, Elmira, Toronto, Boston, Burlington, Hartford, Cleveland, Washington, Detroit and Newark.

A total of 1,850 Mohawk employes are now back at work, with an additional 400 to be recalled during the next few weeks.

PROCLAMATION
THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK
To the Sheriff of the County of Ulster:
GREETING:

Whereas, a Trial Term of Supreme Court and Jail Delivery is to be held in and for the County of Ulster, at the Court House, in the City of Kingston, on Monday the 3rd day of May, 1971.

We command you, in pursuance of the provisions of Section 222-a of the Code of Criminal Procedure, in that case made and provided:

FIRST: That you summon the several persons who shall have been drawn in said County of Ulster, pursuant to law, to serve as Grand Jurors and Trial Jurors at the said Court to appear thereat.

SECOND: That you bring before the said Court all prisoners then being in the Jail of said County, together with all process and proceedings in any way concerning them in your hands as such Sheriff.

THIRD: That you make Proclamation, in the manner prescribed by Section 222-c of the Code of Criminal Procedure, notifying all persons bound to appear at the said Court by recognizance or otherwise, to appear thereat, and requiring all Justices of the Peace, Coroners and other officers who have taken any recognizance for the appearance of any person at such Court, or who shall have taken any inquisition, or the examination of any prisoner or witness, to return such recognizances, inquisitions and examinations to the said Court at the opening thereof, on the first day of its sitting.

WITNESS, Hon. Edward S. Conway, one of the Justices of the Supreme Court of the State of New York, at the Court House in the City of Kingston, this 13th day of April, in the year one thousand nine hundred and seventy-one.

FRANCIS J. VOGT
District Attorney of the County of Ulster

In pursuance of the above precept, I hereby make Proclamation that a term of Supreme Court of Ulster County and Jail deliverance will be held at the Court House in Kingston, in and for the County of Ulster, the 3rd day of May, 1971 at 11:00 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, and all persons who will prosecute against persons confined in the Jail of said County are required to be then and there present, to proceed as may be just; and all persons bound to appear at the said Court by recognizance, or otherwise are required to appear thereat, and all Justices of the Peace, Coroners and other officers who may have taken any recognizance for the appearance of any person at the said Court, or who may have taken any inquisition, or the examination of any prisoner or witness are required to return such recognizances, inquisitions, and examinations on to the said Court at the opening thereof, at the first day of the sitting thereof, and to be then and there present with their rolls and records, indictments and remembrances to do those things which to their office pertain.

SUMMONS

To the defendants "John Doe," "Jane Doe," "Richard Roe" and "Rose Roe" and George R. Numrich:

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication, pursuant to an order of Hon. John T. Casey, Justice of the Supreme Court of the State of New York signed on the 21st day of April, 1971 at Kingston, New York and filed on the 21st day of April, 1971, the original summons and complaint having been filed on the 15th day of April, 1971 in the office of the clerk of the County of Ulster in the City of Kingston, New York.

The object of this is an action brought pursuant to Article 15 of the Real Property Actions and Proceedings Law of the State of New York to determine all claims to parcels of land situate in the Town of Marbletown, County of Ulster and State of New York, which is described as follows:

PARCEL "A"

BEGINNING at a point in the center of the Lapla Road leading from Lomontville to Lapla and on the bounds of lands in the possession of one Monsees, thence from the said point of beginning and leaving the highway and following the said bounds and passing over a pipe found driven in the ground on the southeasterly side of the highway south fifteen degrees and ten minutes east as the compass pointed in 1967 a distance of one hundred and seventy-seven and six tenths feet to a pipe found driven in the ground at an angle in the said bounds and further along the same and crossing the Steeny Kill north sixty-six degrees and thirteen minutes east a distance of forty-six and two tenths feet to a pipe driven in the ground in the trend of a stone row and wire fence at an angle in the said bounds and further along the same following the trend of the stone row and wire fence south forty-one degrees and thirty minutes east a distance of three hundred and thirty-one feet to a pipe set in the trend of the stone row aforesaid at its intersection with the trend of an old wire fence indicating the bounds of lands in the possession of one Halt, thence following the said bounds and the trend of the wire fence north fifty-six degrees and eleven minutes east a distance of one hundred and seventy-two feet to the center of a 48" Oak growing at a slight angle in the said bounds and further along the same and following the trend of a stone wall for the latter part of the course north forty-six degrees and six minutes east a distance of four hundred and three feet to an iron set at a slight angle in the stone wall and further along the same north fifty-three degrees and no minutes east a distance of one hundred and ninety-seven and two tenths feet to a stone monument found at a slight angle in the said bounds and further along the same north sixty-two degrees and thirty-six minutes east a distance of one hundred and fifty-eight and eight tenths feet to a stone monument at a slight angle in the said bounds and further along the same north sixty-eight degrees and eleven minutes east a distance of one hundred and thirty and two tenths feet to a pipe set at a slight angle in the stone wall and further along the same north forty-one degrees and forty-four minutes east a distance of one hundred and seventeen and one tenth feet to a pipe set in a stone wall corner, thence following the trend of a stone wall for part of the course and re-crossing the Steeny Kill aforesaid and passing over a pipe driven in the ground on the southeasterly side of the Lapla Road aforesaid north forty-one degrees and forty-five minutes west a distance of fourteen hundred and fifty-seven and one tenth feet to a point in the center of the highway aforesaid, thence following the approximate centerline of the said highway south forty degrees and forty-three minutes west a distance of one hundred and nine and eight tenths feet and south thirteen degrees and thirty-nine minutes west a distance of one hundred and one and one tenth feet and south five degrees and seventeen minutes east a distance of two hundred and sixty-four and nine tenths feet and south five degrees and forty-nine minutes west a distance of six hundred and seven and four tenths feet and south twenty-five degrees and twenty-four minutes west a distance of two hundred and thirty-four and four tenths feet and south fifteen degrees and twenty-six minutes west a distance of one hundred and thirty-two and seven tenths feet to the point of beginning and containing approximately twenty-five acres:

EXCEPTING from the above described parcel of land that portion of the above adjoining the centerline of the Lapla Road as hereinabove delineated which is in the possession of the Town of Marbletown for highway purposes.

PARCEL "B"

BEGINNING at a point in a stone wall corner at an easterly corner of lands in the possession of one Shumate and on the bounds of lands in the possession of one Bryant, said point being a distance of ninety-three and one tenth feet on a bearing of south forty-one degrees and fifty-three minutes east from a pipe found in a stone wall corner at the most westerly corner of a parcel of land in the possession of Bryant aforesaid, thence from the said point of beginning and following the Bryant bounds and the trend of a stone wall and crossing a small brook south forty-one degrees and fifty-three minutes east as the compass pointed in 1966 a distance of six hundred and twenty-six and two tenths feet to a pipe found at an angle in the said bounds and further along the same and crossing an old roadway leading from the premises herein described through lands in the possession of Bryant to the Ashokan Road north sixty-two degrees and ten minutes east a distance of sixty-two and eight tenths feet to a pipe set at the northwesterly end of a stone wall on the bounds of lands reputed to be in the possession of one Stank, thence following the said bounds and the trend of the stone wall for part of the course and following the trend of a crooked wire fence south forty degrees and fifty-three minutes east a distance of five hundred and thirty-one and five tenths feet to a pipe found in a wire fence corner on the bounds of lands formerly in the possession of one Haase, thence following the said bounds and the trend of an old wire fence and hedge row south thirty-eight degrees and two minutes west a distance of seven hundred and forty-two and eight tenths feet to a pipe found driven in the ground near the trend of a stone wall on the bounds of lands reputed to be in the possession of one Hutchins, thence following the said bounds and running along or near the trend of the stone wall for part of the course and following the trend of a wire fence and re-crossing the small brook aforesaid and following the trend of another section of stone wall north forty degrees and thirty-nine minutes west a distance of nine hundred and sixty-three and two tenths feet to a pipe set at an angle in the said bounds and further along the same and following the trend of a crooked stone wall north twenty-nine degrees and two minutes west a distance of two hundred and three tenths feet to a pipe set at the end of the stone wall at an angle in the said bounds and further along the same and following the trend of a crooked wire fence north thirty-six degrees and twenty minutes west a distance of two hundred and twenty-three feet to a pipe set in a stone wall corner on the bounds of lands in the possession of Shumate aforesaid, thence following the said bounds and the trend of a stone wall north fifty-five degrees and thirty-two minutes east a distance of five hundred and ninety-seven and eight tenths feet to the point of beginning and containing approximately nineteen and ninety-six hundredths acres:

AND ALSO granting to the parties of the second part herein, their heirs, and assigns all rights presently enjoyed by the grantors herein, to use the old roadway hereinabove mentioned as a means of ingress and egress from the Ashokan Road into the premises herein to be conveyed.

PARCEL "C"

BOND AND CAPITAL NOTE ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF KINGSTON, NEW YORK, REPEALING A BOND AND CAPITAL NOTE ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF KINGSTON, NEW YORK, ADOPTED MAY 2, 1967 AND AUTHORIZING THE CONSTRUCTION OF A NEIGHBORHOOD FACILITY TO BE KNOWN AS RONDOUT NEIGHBORHOOD CENTER, STATING THE ESTIMATED TOTAL MAXIMUM COST THEREOF $293,000, STATING THAT THE SHARE OF THE CITY OF KINGSTON, NEW YORK IN SAID ESTIMATED COSTS WILL NOT EXCEED $99,488, APPROPRIATING THE FULL ESTIMATED COST THEREOF OF $293,000, AUTHORIZING THE ISSUANCE OF $8,000 CAPITAL NOTES TO PROVIDE THE DOWN PAYMENT AND $285,000 SERIAL BONDS OF SAID CITY, AND STATING THAT AGAINST SAME THERE HAS BEEN RESERVED CAPITAL GRANT FUNDS IN THE SUM OF $193,512 BY THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA ACTING THROUGH ITS DEPARTMENT OF HOUSING AND URBAN DEVELOPMENT.

WHEREAS, the City of Kingston, Ulster County, New York, has, following due application, been approved for reservation of CAPITAL GRANT FUNDS in the sum of $193,512, by the United States of America, acting through its DEPARTMENT OF HOUSING AND URBAN DEVELOPMENT, NEIGHBORHOOD FACILITIES GRANT PROGRAM, pursuant to the provisions of Section 703 of the HOUSING and URBAN DEVELOPMENT ACT OF 1965, to aid in defraying the cost of a neighborhood facility, designated as RONDOUT NEIGHBORHOOD CENTER at Kingston, New York, out of a total maximum estimated cost of $293,000; and

WHEREAS, the ultimate contribution of the City of Kingston for the construction of said RONDOUT NEIGHBORHOOD CENTER is estimated to be $99,488;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COMMON COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF KINGSTON IN THE COUNTY OF ULSTER, STATE OF NEW YORK, (by the favorable vote of not less than two thirds of all the members of said Common Council) AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1.
The City of Kingston in the County of Ulster, State of New York, is hereby authorized to construct a Neighborhood Facility, designated as RONDOUT NEIGHBORHOOD CENTER at the City of Kingston, Ulster County, New York, as heretofore duly generally authorized by this Body, pursuant to resolution duly adopted by it on April 6, 1966, all in accordance with amended maps, plans and specifications prepared by Augustus Schrowang, Architect, subject to approval thereof by the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Section 2.
The estimated total maximum cost of said specific object or purpose, including preliminary costs and costs incidental thereto is $293,000, and for which project there has been reserved and allocated GRANT FUNDS in the sum of $193,512 by the United States of America, acting through its Department of Housing and Urban Development, leaving the share of said project to be defrayed and financed by the City of Kingston in the County of Ulster, State of New York in the sum of $99,488. The plan of financing the said project includes the issuance by the said City of Kingston of $8,000 capital notes to provide the down payment and the balance of $285,000 by serial bonds and by the crediting against same of $193,512 in CAPITAL GRANT FUNDS reserved for this project by the United States of America, acting through its Department of Housing and Urban Development and the levy and collection of tax upon all the taxable real property in said City to pay the principal balance of said notes and bonds, after crediting such CAPITAL GRANT FUNDS together with accrued interest thereon.

Section 3.
Pursuant to the provisions of the Local Finance Law, constituting Chapter 33-a of the Consolidated Laws of the State of New York, Capital Notes in the principal amount of $8,000 and serial bonds in the principal amount of $285,000 of the City of Kingston are hereby authorized to be issued to finance the cost of said specific object or purpose.

Section 4.
The following additional matters are hereby determined and declared:
(a) The period of probable usefulness of the specific object or purpose for which the notes and bonds authorized pursuant to this Ordinance are to be issued within the limitations of Section 11.00, Subdivision 11(b) of said Local Finance Law is twenty (20) years.
(b) Current funds are required to be provided prior to the issuance of the serial bonds herein authorized or any bond anticipation on notes in anticipation thereof and such current funds will be provided by the issuance of the $8,000. Capital Notes herein authorized. The City Treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to set aside the proceeds of the sale of said Capital Notes and to apply the same solely to the said specific object or purpose.

Section 5. Each of the notes and bonds authorized by this Ordinance and any bond anticipation notes issued in anticipation of the sale of such bonds, shall contain the recital of validity prescribed by Sec. 52.00 of said Law and said notes and bonds and any notes issued in anticipation of said bonds shall be general obligations of the City and the City hereby irrevocably pledges its faith and credit to the punctual payment of the principal thereof and the interest thereon and there shall be raised annually by tax on all the taxable real property in the City, a sum sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on said notes and bonds as the same shall become due and payable.

Section 6.
Subject to the provisions of this Ordinance and of said Local Finance Law, and pursuant to the provisions of Sec. 30.00 relative to the authorization of the issuance of bond anticipation notes and of Sec. 50.00 and Sec. 56.00 to Sec. 60.00 of said Law, the powers and duties of the Common Council relative to prescribing the terms, form and contents and as to the sale and issuance of the notes and bonds are hereby delegated to the City Treasurer, chief fiscal officer of the City.

Section 7.
It is further stated that the validity of the notes and bonds authorized by this Ordinance, and of any notes issued in anticipation of said bonds, may be contested only if:
(a) such obligations are authorized for an object or purpose for which the City is not authorized to expend money, or,
(b) the provisions of law which should be complied with at the date of publication of such ordinance, are not substantially complied with, and an action, suit or proceeding contesting such validity is commenced within twenty days after the date of such publication,
(c) such obligations are authorized in violation of the provisions of the Constitution.

Section 8.
The balance of the bond ordinance heretofore enacted by the Common Council of the City of Kingston on May 2nd, 1967 in the total amount of $365,268, less the amount of $25,000 expended therefrom in pursuance of the authority thereof, be and the same hereby is repealed.

Section 9.
This Ordinance, which takes effect immediately, shall be published,

Your Horoscope

Tuesday, April 27

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Your mind is working overtime for original and progressive ideas which will make your life easier and pleasanter. Fine for short business trips or for obtaining information needed to get your way.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Discuss with allies how mutual projects can be improved. Try to understand better what they data you require; don't procrastinate since it will take some time to get it.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Keep busy with financial affairs that are important to your welfare now. Listen to what a professional has to say that will be helpful to you. Don't let important bills slide.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Stating your aims to the right people today can bring you the assistance you want and make you a more successful person. Dress your best when you attend that social affair in p.m. and you make excellent new contacts.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You are able to handle those personal matters with relative ease now; start on them early. An attachment is most affectionate in p.m. Have a happy evening together.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Concentrate on social activities now and plan for future events. Your private affairs need to be taken care of without further delay. Show that you are an interesting and energetic person.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) See what you can do to have a more pleasing image both in public and private life, and then get busy. Improve career via the civic platform. Show more dynamism that in the past.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) New conditions are at work that will give you an opportunity for greater benefits and favors than you have had in a long time. See how to make a new project work faster. Plan that vital trip, also.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) There are responsibilities that must be handled immediately, or you get into deeper hot water later. Once these are completed, much happiness with mate is possible. Try not to lose your temper.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You can work out deals now for long-time aggreements with associates. First let them state their views, and then you say your piece. This brings fast results.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You can make this a productive and happy day, provided you first come to a meeting of minds with fellow workers. Later consult with one who can help you with health matters. Do not neglect your teeth.

AQUARIUS (Jna. 21 to Feb. 19) You desire entertainment, which is all right, provided you get work out of the way first. Later, use creative talent with vim and vigor. Channel energies constructivey.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) If you show willingness to help solve problems at home, much harmony can result by early p.m. Plan how to get that project in the business world rolling. Count the cost.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY he or she wil be one of those delightful young people with such a logical mind and so much physical energy that others will find it hard to keep up. However, there is a tendency to go from one project to the other without completing any. Teach early to finish what is once started, then this can become a most successful chart and really big money can be made throughout the lifetime. Religious training while young.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

GETTING EVEN? (Q.) You see. I'm going out with this boy and he likes me a lot. But there is this girl, too, and if you ask me I think she is a prostitute She likes him too. He doesn't like her but he was forced to date her and he did.

Do you think it would be wrong for me to date another guy? He is really nice. If my boy friend found out, all I'd have to say is that I was forced and then we would be even.—14 and Angry in Fall River, Mass.

(A.) If you start at 14 trying to "get even" with all the boys you like who date other girls, you'll have a lot of "getting even" ahead of you, and none of it will do any good. To try to "get even" for spite is a mistake and leads to further unhappiness.

Calling other girls by dirty labels just because you are jealous of them is also a mistake.

If you want to date another boy because you like him, do so, I believe that is why your friend dated the girl you're angry at, because he liked her. Boys date girls because they want to, not because they're forced to do so.

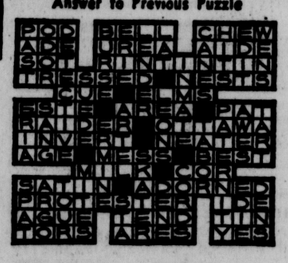

CREAKY: (Q.) When I bend down or reach or take exercises in gym my knees, toes, and arms creak. It embarrasses me terribly. I'm afraid the other girls will hear. What can I do to stop it?—Noisy in Philadelphia.

(A.) Ask your doctor if you have some bone or muscle problem that calls for treatment. He may send you to a specialist for a check. If nothing is found, the answer is regular exercises to limber you up.

Predictable Plots Are Better

NEW YORK (AP) — A famous editor, teaching a course in writing, has his students read and reread certain novels five times. The fifth reading, he says, is a crashing bore, but it reveals the bare bones of the author's plot.

Television drama is not quite as stubborn. Watching one rerun usually is quite sufficient and all too often the bones are very visible at first sight.

Sunday night's "Bonanza" on NBC was a repeat showing of an episode about a teen-age boy vindicating the reputation of his dead father as a rainmaker. The story established a warm relationship between the senior Cartwright and the youngster, but the basic plot was an acceptable variation of TV's hybridized Western form.

In this case the boy was roughed up by drought-stricken farmers instead of bad guys, but the rain appeared finally and the Cartwrights came to the rescue—just as the viewer knew they would.

The series form, of course, has certain built-in limitations. No matter how serious the mess, the viewer knows that nothing drastic will happen to any series star. Ben, Little Joe and Hoss of Bonanza often are beaten up, winged by bullets and charged with murder, but we all know it isn't serious and they'll be back, good as new, next week.

A predictable plot often is better viewing than rambling tale that relys on characterization and message. "The Bold Ones" rerun Sunday was a slow-moving and shapeless hour about the defense of athe courtroom: the dead man Vietnam war veteran accusedwas haunted and demented by of killing his best friend. Scramble for 10th Trick

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Oswald: "In JACOBY MODERN the opening two clubs is our only forcing bid. It covers certain strong no-trump hands and all hands that are opened two of any suit in standard American."

Jim: "The initial response is also artificial. Two diamonds shows 0-3 high-card points and is forcing to one trick below game. The other responses also show high-card points and are forcing to game. Two hearts shows 0-3high-card points and no-trump 10-12, and three clubs 13 or more."

Oswald: "South has a mighty fine two bid, but he realizes that since his partner's responses denies more than 3 high-card points, there is no slam. There may not even be a game but South decides to gamble that he will be able to develop a 10th trick somewhere."

Jim: "A spade lead would have been delightful, but West opens a diamond and South has to try to scramble for the 10th trick."

Oswald: "He will get it if he leads the king of spades at trick two. West will win and probably make his best return of a low trump. South will win and lead a second spade. It won't matter who wins that one. East hasn't a trump to lead and if West leads a second trump he will lose his king."

Jim: "It should be noted that a low spade lead at trick two would allow East to gain the lead and play a trump to defeat the contract."

Stratton in Saugerties — Gives a Demo Formula

By ALBERT J. CAWEIN

SAUGERTIES

Congressman Samuel S. Stratton revealed a formula for Democratic victory in 1972, discounting the Vietnam issue, in his address before an enthusiastic audience Saturday night.

The 29th District Democrat, one of the strongest vote getters in the Upstate area spoke to a capacity gathering at The Flamingo Restaurant, sponsored by the Saugerties Democratic Club.

He observed that making a partisan political issue out of the Vietnam War was misdirected and scored it as an exercise both in futility and in rewriting history.

Stratton, the second ranking Democrat on the House Armed Services Committee said that the Democratic Party should instead be directing its energies toward formulating a program for the future of Southeast Asia after the Vietnam conflict is at an end.

He said that President Nixon's withdrawal schedule, an open secret in Washington, calls for complete withdrawal by September 1972.

"So what we are doing all the bitter arguing about actually is only a matter of three or four months at the most and is hardly a substantial issue. And certainly is not big enough on which to base a winning 1972 campaign," he noted.

At this point, Stratton, deviating from the prepared text of his address, declared the biggest issue in 1972 is the economic issue. He said the Democrats in Congress have proposed several of thetse economic programs.

The Amsterdam Democrat noted there are three specific questions the Democratic Party must focus its attention on in the upcoming campaign. How to conduct Vietnam withdrawal with the least chance "That what our brave soldiers have sacrificed for will not be lost forever. What a Democratic administration can do, once the military involvement has ended, to promote peace, prosperity and stability in all of Asia. And what do we as Democrats propose to do about helping maintain peace and stability in the rest of the world."

He made special mention of County Legislature Minority Leader Roger W. Mabie of the 7th Dist. and three other Democratic County Legislators in attendance, Orrie Riehl of Kingston; Richard Thornton and Paul Brasier, both of Saugerties. He also offered a special tribute to the late Joseph Y. Resnick, who won a seat in Congress "from this strong Republican District." Stratton cautioned the Democrats to stop internal fighting and unite and win in 1974. He cited the case of Supervisor A. Michael Schovel, "who allowed some Republicans to vote for him here," to attain victory.

Lawrence G. Thornton, Democratic Club president served as toastmaster. Maurice Hinchey Jr., town Democratic chairman thanked the committees responsibile for what was termed a most successful event. He also introduced Rosemarie Hogan, county vice chairman, who was at the speaker's table. He singled out Peter Iacovazzi, dinner chairman for his efforts toward the success of the annual dinner-dance.

GOP Leaders Turn Attention to N.Y. Problems

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Republican leaders pointed the legislature today toward a mid-May adjournment and seeking to remove a major stumbling block, turned their attention to the New York City fiscal problem.

As the Senate and Assembly resumed public working sessions this afternoon, GOP leaders indicated they would spend most of the week in private conferences with Gov. Rockefeller on the city situation.

Their object is to develop a common position on what the state can — or will not — do to help Mayor John V. Lindsay finance his new city budget.

Legislative sources said Assembly Speaker Perry B. Duryea and Senate Majority Leader Earl W. Brydges would take the position that any new help from the state would have to take the form of authorizations for new city taxes — not further state taxes.

Over the weekend, Rockefeller splashe dcold water on the whole subject, saying in a letter to Lindsay that the mayor's request would require state and city tax boosts so high that economic disaster would ensue.

Pointing to spending retrenchments on the state level, Rockefeller told Lindsay that he also would have to "exercise a comparable discipline."

The legislative sources indicated that, nevertheless, the GOP leadership probably would authorize some increases in city taxes. What taxes and to what degree are the questions to be settled.

Duryea and Brydges would like to dispose of the city problem so that they can bring the 1971 legislative session to final adjournment in May. Brydges was said to be shooting for a May 15 closing, while Duryea was talking of adjourning during the week ending May 22.

Besides the city problem, the governor and the leaders will be discussing ways of supplying more financial help to the state's parochial school system and what spending items should be pencilled into the annual supplemental budget bill.

The budget bill is passed toward the end of each annual session to tidy up the state's spending plan for the fiscal year. It often is used as a vehicle for restoring money cut from the main budget in the much - publicized economy efforts of the legislature.

The lawmakers are under heavy pressure to reinstate great chunks of the $756 million in spending authority that they trimmed from Rockefeller's original budget this time. But they have a reserve of only $20 million to finance the supplemental budget and thus any major restoration would require additional tax increases to keep the budget in balance.

One legislative source said there was no inclination whatsoever at the leadership level to add to the $500 million in higher taxes already voted by the legislature.

Rocky's 'Dear John' — A Tax Rejection

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI)—In a "Dear John" letter to Mayor John V. Lindsay made public during the weekend, Governor Rockefeller apparently rejected --at least for the time being--a request for $375 million in higher state taxes to balance New York City's new budget.

In the letter, Rockefeller warned that Lindsay's overall tax package of $1.175 billion would bring the city to the "brink of bankruptcy." He urged the mayor of the nation's largest city to cut back services as the state has done.

While apparently blocking the $375 million in state levies for the city, the governor said Lindsay's proposals for $800 million in new city revenue were being given careful consideration. He noted, however, that Lindsay's city council has not yet endorsed any of the items in the mayor's tax package.

Rockefeller told his fellow Republican that "I must say to you in all frankness, that to add $1.175 billion of new taxes ... could well destroy the economy of the City of New York, and go a long way toward pulling down the state as a whole."

"Just as the state found it necessary to face the harsh realities," Rockefeller wrote, "so must every other unit of government in the state--from the smallest school district to the largest urban center--exercise a comparable discipline in the light of the present financial crisis."

Rockefeller told Lindsay that increasing taxes much beyond the present rate could bring the state and city to the "brink of bankruptcy."

He added that until some answer to the economic crisis is found "we will have no choice but to cut down on services.

Rockefeller renewed his campaign to obtain congressional approval of federal revenue sharing proposal made by President Nixon. He told Lindsay that "the only recourse we have to prevent even worse hardships for our citizens" would be thrpugh federal revenue sharing.

Rockefeller concluded by saying he was "sorry not to be able to give you more encouraging news, but with the help of all concerned we may still convince Congress to reconsider its priorities to prevent the collapse" of local and state governments.

Special County Legislature Meeting on Tuesday Night

KINGSTON

A special meeting of the Ulster County Legislature has been called for Tuesday night at 7:30 in the County office Building.

Legislature chairman Peter J. Savago (R-Dist 8) said that three resolutions will be acted upon, one calling for the advertisement for bids for the new county jail. The other two resolutions deal with the purchase of additional land for the Ulster County Community College.

UCCC committee chairman Brain White (R-Dist. 9) offers the college resolutions on behalf of his committee with one calling for authorization to be given Savago to execute a contract for the purchase of 50 acres of land for $20,000 from the estate of the late Adolph Fromer. The second resolution calls for the transfer of about half the amount of purchase price from the contingency fund to the capital projects fund. The state will reimburse the county for 50 per cent of the purchase price, or $10,000. The county will pay the remainder plus $125.96 for a tax adjustment due the seller. Irving A. Garson is executor for the estate.

It is anticipated the additional land to be purchased in needed for the continuing expanison of the college facility.

It is also expected that legislators will meet after the meeting in Democratic and Republican caucuses to consider the recently issued space study of the needs of the County Office Building.

Gets Court Permission To Marry Anne-Marie

MADISON, Wis. (UPI)—Robert W. Krogstad, a wealthy manufacturer, has obtained court permission to marry Anne-Marie Rasmussen Rockefeller, the Norwegian "Cinderella" who became a daughter-in-law of New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller.

Krogstad, 51, needed the permission of Dane County Court to marry because he is supporting three children in the custody of his former wife. He told the court he had made regular $900-a-month payments as ordered after his 1969 divorce.

Mrs. Rockefeller, 32, and her husband, Steven, a candidate for a doctoral degree at Union Theological Seminary in New York, separated in November 1969, and were divorced last June. She received custody of their three children and has been living in Pound Ridge, N.Y.

Mrs. Rockefeller and Krogstad met in July, 1968, when she visited Madison during her father-in-law's campaign for the Republican presidential nomination.

Kahn Notes Some Onteora Errors

BOICEVILLE

Onteora School Board President W. Jack Kahn today expressed his concern regarding misconceptions and misunderstandings on salary increases in the 1971-72 proposed school budget as reported recently in The Freeman.

Kahn said that the increase in administrative salaries is not 16 per cent as reported, but approximately 8 per cent, since the budgeted salary for the 1970-71 school year reflected the salary for the previous superintendent of schools and not the present superintendent.

Kahn also indicated that the increase in the teachers salary account is not less than one per cent as reported, but 8 per cent, including new teaching positions. He indicated that the budgeted salary figure of $1,924,446 for 1970-71 included $24,000 for sabbatical leaves and $10,400 for library aide services. In the current budget, library aide services is placed as a separate line item and sabbatical leaves will not be granted in accordance with a newly adopted state law. Consequently, this budget reflects an increase of $153,944 which is 8 per cent greater than the amount budgeted in the prior school year.

Kahn also indicatetd that, "such frugal activities on the port of the board as selling two vehicles at the last board meeting for an amount greater than they were purchased last year, was not indicated." He referred specifically to the sale of two vehicles for $5,452. These vehicles were purchased a year ago for $5,338.

Kahn also indicated the fact that pupil enrollment will increase by 3 per cent in the next school year. This, combined with the increasing costs for goods and services, which will be at least 6 per cent underscores the efficient budget prepared which reflects an 8 per cent increase in property taxes.

Youth Arrested Along Route 212 On Drug Charge

TOWN OF KINGSTON

A 16-year-old Connecticut youth was arrested Sunday by Kingston State Police on a charge of criminal possession of a dangerous drug sixth degree.

Troopers P.W. Sheehan and B.G. McNab picked up Norbert Alexander of Bridgeport, on Route 212 during a touring check. He was accused of having in his possession a number of seconal tablets.

Arraigned before Kingston Town Justice Robert Ferrigan, Alexander was committed to the Ulster County jail in lieu of $200 bail for hearing on Wednesday.
